Fires Started in Lwow by Russian Mass Air Attack

Germans Claim Red Army Thrusts at Sevastopol in Crimea Have Collapsed

LONDON, April 28 (AP).—Red Army troops killed 800 Germans and Hungarians in repulsing attacks southeast of Stanislawow in prewar Poland today, and Soviet long-range aircraft touched off fires and explosions Thursday night in a mass attack on Lwow, 65 miles northwest of Stanislawow, a Moscow communique said tonight in announcing "no substantial changes" on the land front.

The only reference to the Crimean front was a midnight supplement which said that a 1,000-ton tanker and a landing barge were sunk in the area of beseiged Sevastopol by Russian naval planes. A 600-ton tanker and mine sweeper also were sunk in the Gulf of Finland, the bulletin said.

A German communique claimed that fresh Russian attempts to break through with strong forces north of Iasi in Romania had been frustrated, that Soviet efforts to enlarge bridgeheads across the Lower Dniestr to the east had been repulsed, and that local Red Army thrusts at Sevastopol in the Crimea had collapsed.

SEVATOPOL UNDER FIRE TWO WEEKS

Sevastopol now has been under the fire of Red Army guns for two weeks.

Berlin also told of the repulse of Soviet troops in the east-central part of Poland around Kowel, 170 miles from Warsaw, and told of air attacks on rear-line supply points where the Russians have been reported mobilising men and equipment for a new offensive.

Moscow's broadcast communique, recorded by the Soviet monitor, said that during the mass attack on Lwow one force of Red airmen "blockaded" an enemy airdrome near that strategic city, one of the largest rail points in Europe, and fired a column of German trucks on a road leading into Lwow.

In another attack on Orsha, German stronghold in White Russia, the Russian flyers set fires on a Nazi airdrome and amid fuel and ammunition dumps and parked planes, the bulletin said.

During Thursday's fighting on all fronts, the Russians wrecked 22 enemy tanks and destroyed 28 planes.

THE TIMES, London

News and Comment on International Events selected from The Times daily and published in The Daily Colonist by special arrangement with The Vancouver Daily Province

(Copyright 1944, by Southam Co.)

LONDON, April 28.—The strategy of the world war is already known to the Dominion Premiers, says The Times, commenting on their arrival in London.

The first desire will be to hear from Premier Churchill himself.

In the Dominions many problems like those of Commonwealth co-operation and defence, new world organization for international security, regional grouping of colonies and immigration are already under discussion.

To their work in London the Premiers bring thoughts and plans shaped by geographic needs and desires of their own sovereign peoples.

Is there to be permanent secretariat for the Empire? Is British Commonwealth to speak as a team in world affairs after the war?

Certainly, says the diplomatic correspondent of The Times, the Prime Ministers meet in a common desire to improve present methods of consultation. They will sit as members of the War Cabinet except when purely United Kingdom domestic affairs are on the agenda.

The Times says by the time the Premiers have concluded their consultations in London it may be possible to give the British peoples themselves, and the world as well a reaffirmation of the aims which Britain seeks to fulfill in close co-operation with her fellow members of the Commonwealth and with her Allies.

The Ottawa correspondent of The Times in a review of this Dominion's relations with the rest of the Commonwealth, says Canadians are apprehensive about creation of any machinery for formulating a unified foreign and defence policy for the Commonwealth alone.

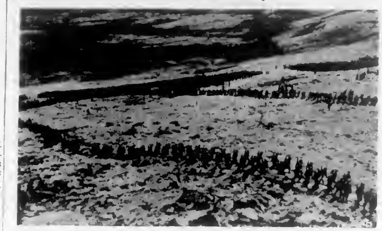

There are domestic and international reasons for their fears. At home there is anxiety lest such policy might further alienate French

Rehearsal for D-Day Goes on Steadily

On a Stretch of Bleak Coastal Terrain Somewhere in Britain, Thousands of American Troops Line Up for the March Back to Camp After Participating in Extensive Amphibious Invasion Manoeuvres.

Great Allied Fleet Forming, Say Nazis

Speculation on Date of Invasion Becoming Feverish—Guesses Between May 2 and June 7

LONDON, April 29 (Saturday) (AP).—The Berlin radio early today asserted that the German anti-invasion command was about to go into action and said "another huge Allied fleet is forming in the ports of Southeast England."

As Nazi speculation on the date of the invasion reached a feverish pitch the Germans said Nazi raiders struck again at "concentrated Allied shipping massed off Southwest England." The German radio previously had claimed bomber attacks on Allied shipping Thursday night.

A communique from the Ministries of Air and Home Security Friday however, said the only incident reported during Thursday night enemy air activity, mainly over coastal districts and Eastern England Thursday night, "caused no damage or casualties."

A vast outpouring of speculation came from Nazi and neutral microphones, some contradictory and some nonsense with guessing on the date of "D" day ranging from May 2 to June 7 and with general prediction that the Allied invasion from the west would be tied with colossal blows in the south and in the east.

From this island base itself history's greatest aerial offensive was growing in intensity and the air commanders were openly and officially referring to it as the "eve-of-invasion" offensive, but everything possible was being done to keep the enemy guessing as to the exact date.

GREAT QUANTITIES OF ALLIED SHIPPING

The report of an air attack on invasion vessels in Western England was sent from Berlin by the correspondent of the Stockholm newspaper Tidningen, who added that great quantities of Allied shipping were

Condition of Gandhi Causes Some Anxiety

LONDON, April 28 (CP).—Concern was expressed tonight for Mohandas K. Gandhi, who, according to an official statement issued in Bombay today, is "weak and causing some anxiety" after suffering an attack of fever.

The statement added that the 75-year-old Indian Nationalist leader had "not recovered from his recent attack as was hoped," and Britons in close touch with Indian affairs admitted that his death in confinement might react unfavorably to Britain, at least temporarily.

Premier King Sees Churchill

LONDON, April 28 (CP).—Prime Minister Mackenzie King conferred with Prime Minister Churchill at 10 Downing Street today as the Empire capital went overboard with enthusiasm for the Commonwealth conference which opens next week.

The British press and officialdom are treating the meeting of the Dominions' Prime Ministers as of even international consequence, although no major decisions, agreements or declarations are expected to issue directly from it.

Mr. King's visit to Downing Street was in the nature of a social call and was the first meeting of the Canadian and British leaders since the Quebec conference of last August. Otherwise, Mr. King is spending a few quiet days, avoiding functions and receiving few callers.

Starting with the arrival of Mr. King and Prime Minister Peter Fraser, Thursday Britain's skimpy four-page newspapers have been devoting both news and editorial column space to the visiting conference personalities Mr. King, Mr. Fraser, Prime Minister Curtin of Australia, Prime Minister Smuts of South Africa, and Sir Godfrey Huggins, Prime Minister of Southern Rhodesia.

Field Marshal Smuts and Sir Godfrey arrived in London today and Mr. Curtin is expected shortly from the United States.

Bolivia Smashes Vast Conspiracy

LA PAZ, Bolivia, April 28 (AP).—The Bolivian Government announced tonight that a vast conspiracy had been broken up with the detention of numerous revolutionaries and that a state of siege had been declared throughout the country.

No details were given, but an announcement by the Government said that Acting President Major Gualberto Villarroel acted constitutionally with the consent of his Cabinet to preserve public order in the face of subversive activities.

No public disturbances were reported.

"HEAVY LOSS"

WASHINGTON, April 28 (AP).—President Roosevelt said tonight the sudden death of Navy Secretary Frank Knox is a "heavy loss to us and to me especially who had come to lean on him increasingly."

Guam Bombed by U.S. Navy Forces

WASHINGTON, April 28 (AP).—Guam, former United States possession overrun by the Japanese in the Pacific, was bombed by the United States Navy and despite the presence of Japanese planes on the ground, no attempt to offset the American attack was made.

Announcing the April 24 attack tonight, the navy also said that Ponape was attacked by army and navy planes April 26, later the same day re-attacked by the army and the following day again by the army.

Double Probe of Chicago Seizure

WASHINGTON, April 28 (AP).—A double-barrelled congressional investigation of the Montgomery Ward case was in prospect tonight as angry critics of seizure of the firm's Chicago plants asked whether the Government now would take over "hamburger stands" and whether Attorney-General Francis Biddle wants to be an "American Himmler."

Chairman Patrick McCarran, of the Senate Judiciary Committee, announcing he had dispatched an investigator to Chicago, declared his committee was determined to "get to the bottom of this case."

Across the capital a resolution for an inquiry was forced to the floor of the House of Representatives by an angry coalition of Republicans and Democrats who squeezed it through a tumultuous session of the rules committee by one vote.

In Chicago, meantime, Board Chairman Sewell Avery whose defiance of a War Labor Board order led President Roosevelt to direct seizure of the company's plant there, was re-elected and received a vote of "full confidence" from Montgomery Ward's shareholders. The company also opened a fight in Federal Court, contending that the seizure was unconstitutional. Biddle replied that the President had power to enforce the W.L.B.'s orders.

NEW SWEDISH MINISTER

STOCKHOLM, April 28 (AP).—Steffan Soederblom, chief of the Foreign Office's political department has been appointed Swedish Minister to Russia it was announced tonight.

U.S. Bombers Hit Jap Bases

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, New Guinea, April 29 (Saturday) (AP).—United States Army and Navy flyers seeking to forestall any Japanese attempt to bolster the crippled Nipponese air arm on New Guinea, poured more than 200 tons of bombs on enemy airdromes from the western tip of the huge island to Rabaul and Kavieng in the east.

Headquarters announced today that medium bombers ripped into the enemy's Jefman airdrome at Sorong, on the western end of New Guinea, while heavy bombers hammered Babo to the south on the shore of McCluer Gulf. Babo has air and port facilities.

Numerous fires rose from both targets.

Other planes attacked the four airdromes in the Wewak area 90 miles southeast from captured Aitape, and hit Rabaul on New Britain Island in the Bismarck Archipelago. Kavieng on New Ireland, also was hit.

Only Rapopo airdrome on Rabaul offered heavy anti-aircraft fire. One American plane was lost out of a raiding force of 150.

Rocket Plane Test Pilot Dies in Crash

LONDON, April 28 (CP).—John Crosby Warren, six foot 8 inch test pilot on British jet propulsion planes, was killed last night in a plane crash in Western England. No details were available.

Huge Stock of Gasoline Used

LONDON, April 28 (CP).—The gigantic Allied air forces now hammering Hitler's Europe daily from Britain use as much 100-octane gasoline in 12 days as was consumed by the R.A.F. throughout 1940, including the Battle of Britain, Geoffrey Lloyd, chairman of the British Oil Control Board disclosed today.

Hulao Pass in Chinese Hands

CHUNGKING, April 28 (AP).—Chinese defenders have driven the Japanese troops from strategic Hulao Pass, gateway to Loyang annihilating a large portion of them, the Chinese High Command said tonight in announcing that successes both east and southeast of Loyang had eased threats to the city.

The pass again is entirely in Chinese hands, said the High Command.

Earlier the Chinese had admitted that the Japanese had fought their way into the important pass west of Chenghsien, which the High Command acknowledged today for the first time had been lost to the Japanese in their drive into Northern Honan Province.

Southeast of Loyang the Chinese tonight claimed further advances and said the enemy suffered heavy losses. Fighting in this area, to which the bulk of the invading troops, estimated at more than 60,000, are engaged, shifted closer to Nihsien, 20 miles southwest of Changchow, said the High Command.

Japanese forces driving southward east of the Peiping-Hankow railway, were forced to retreat after gaining 30 miles, the High Command said.

Smash Japanese Indian Positions

KANDY, Ceylon, April 28 (CP).—The powerfully reinforced defenders of Kohima, Allied base in Eastern India, have smashed into Japanese positions west of the town and captured a number of enemy strongpoints it was announced today.

British tanks and infantry, which fought their way into Kohima along the 35-mile road from Dimapur earlier in the week, were reported making steady progress in "very difficult country" as they launched an offensive to clear the area of Japanese invaders.

The British counter-offensive was forecast in dispatches yesterday, which told of reinforcements pouring into Kohima. Less than three weeks of good fighting weather remains before the rains begin.

Air forces of both sides joined actively in the fighting about Kohima with Allied planes holding a wide margin of superiority. Of one group of Japanese fighters and bombers that swept into the area, one was destroyed, four probably destroyed and eight damaged.

ENGINEER KILLED

HAMILTON, Ont., April 28 (CP).—Clarence O. Kappler of Hamilton, engineer for the Toronto Hamilton & Buffalo Railway was killed tonight when the freight train he was driving collided with a truck. Officials said Kappler was pinned in the cab of the engine which caught on fire.

Pre-Invasion Air Attack on Military Targets in France Sees 2,800 Planes in Action

Great Offensive Rolls Into 15th Day as Night Raiders Out

LONDON, April 29 (Saturday) (AP).—R.A.F. bombers struck at Nazi targets in occupied territory early today after United States heavy bombers blasted air bases and fortifications in France yesterday in their first triple-header blow.

Specific targets of the night-flying fleets were not disclosed immediately.

German raiders meanwhile feinted at the southeast coast of England, but were driven off with two shot down. No bombings had been reported early this morning.

LONDON, April 29 (AP).—The Allied Air Command hurled more than 2,800 planes against French military targets, including fortifications in the Cherbourg area on the 14th straight day of "pre-invasion" attacks following up a 1,000-plane, 3,500-ton R.A.F.-R.C.A.F. night assault on the technical centre of Friedrichshafen and other vital targets.

Most of the daylight planes were American and they hit also at Germany's network of French air bases.

A United States communique said four bombers and three fighters were missing from all American operations.

The German radio indicated the offensive would roll into the 15th day by warning that Allied night raiders were approaching Northwest Germany.

Three Foreign Planes Down in Switzerland

NEW YORK, April 28 (CP).—The Berne radio said today at least three foreign planes came down in Switzerland Thursday night, when R.A.F. and Canadian bombers heavily attacked the German city of Friedrichshafen, separated from Swiss territory by Lake Constance.

The broadcast, recorded by C.B.S., said two planes were found in flames, one in Lucerne Canton and the other in the Toggenburg. The first was identified as a British bomber. Five of its crew were killed and five others who bailed out were interned. Nationality of the other second plane was not established.

Death Claims Secretary of The U.S. Navy

WASHINGTON, April 28 (AP).—Frank Knox, secretary of history's largest navy and one of the two Republicans in President Roosevelt's War Cabinet, died today of a heart attack. He was 70 years old.

Wherever the fleet he helped to build is operating flags went to half staff as James V. Forrestal, acting secretary, flashed the word of his death by radio. The Senate and House recessed out of respect. Lawmakers and Federal officials joined in expressions of regret at his loss.

Mr. Knox suffered a first light heart attack in New York Sunday and a second severe one at his home here Tuesday after a recurrence of what he had believed to be indigestion.

To the navy Mr. Knox left a heritage of physical and moral courage and a philosophy of vigorous action which had caused him to take an active role in three big wars of his lifetime and helped him to prominence in newspaper publishing, which was his business, and politics, which he loved.

Mr. Knox and Mr. Roosevelt disagreed on many domestic issues but on the necessity for a strong America and on the inevitability of war and the dangers of Fascism they were in harmony. Thus it was that when France fell in 1940 the President called on Mr. Knox to serve as his Navy Secretary and Stimson to take the War Secretaryship.

It was regarded as possible in Washington political circles tonight that the President might seek another Republican leader to fill the navy position. There was no confirmation of this, however, and no clue as to whom the President might have in mind.

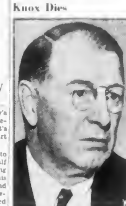

For the time being Mr. Forrestal will continue as acting secretary having moved into that position. As under-secretary he had worked closely with Mr. Knox in the conduct of the navy's wartime affairs.

Bombs Blow Papers Across Swiss Lake

BERNE, April 28 (AP).—During last night's R.A.F. raid on Friedrichshafen air pressure from the exploding bombs was so great German newspapers and ration cards were blown across Lake Constance to Romanshorn, on the Swiss side, news dispatches reported tonight.

In the Swiss town people were hurled back and windows broken by the pressure. The town shook as though in an earthquake area. The attack was described as dwarfing all previous raids in the Lake Constance area.

Army Parade In City Today

Today is the day of the big Army Victory Loan Parade to Horseshoe Bay. Twenty-five hundred men in 12 units will leave Hillside and Douglas Streets at 2 o'clock and Lieutenant-Governor W. C. Woodward, accompanied by Maj.-Gen. G. R. Pearkes, V.C., O.C.-in-C., and Brigadier J. P. Preston, M.C., will take the salute in front of the Crystal Garden.

The Garrison Band will take up position and counter-march at the reviewing stand until bands playing their own men past. The parade will continue through Beacon Hill Park to Horseshoe Bay for the public demonstration of artillery fire.

Two light anti-aircraft guns will put on a crash action and will engage a target towed by aircraft at a height of 1,500 feet. In a second demonstration, two 3.7 anti-aircraft guns will engage a towed target at a height of 6,000 feet.

In the final demonstration, guns will prepare to move away while two fighter aircraft dive on their positions and attack them by machine-gun fire and flour bombs.

Lieut.-Col. D. Younger is acting as parade commander.

Island Into Third Million In Loan Drive

With a third of the Sixth Victory Loan campaign practically over, less than a quarter of the objective had been recorded at Vancouver Island headquarters of the National War Finance Committee last night.

Officials expect an acceleration next week and say results to date have not been discouraging. Some groups which subscribe through the payroll deduction plan are expected to hold their order, until solicitations have been completed. This will tend to increase the rate of subscription to be recorded during next week.

Yesterday the Victoria Bed & Mattress Co., the Royal Trust Company and Northwestern Creameries, Ltd. reported their employees had subscribed to the extent of more than 15 per cent of the total payroll. These are in addition to several firms already reported over the top.

The standing of the campaign this morning is as follows:

	Objective	Subscribed	%
Greater Victoria	$5,700,000	[illegible]	23
Lower V. I. and Gulf Islands	[illegible]	145,000	20
Cowichan-Duncan	[illegible]	107,000	15
Courtenay-Comox	[illegible]	[illegible]	21
Nanaimo	800,000	[illegible]	22
Alberni	540,000	[illegible]	14
Ladysmith	[illegible]	[illegible]	110
Total	[illegible]	[illegible]	23

Ladysmith was still the only British Columbia-Yukon unit over the top yesterday with 110 per cent of its quota in the Sixth Victory Loan drive. The Canadian Press reported Ladysmith unit was followed by Ocean Falls-Rivers Inlet with 61 per cent.

Burnaby climbed from 29 per cent Thursday over the half-way mark to 54 per cent and third place in the line-up.

Powell River-South Coast holds fourth spot in the 43 units, with Shaughnessy fifth with 48 per cent.

The general public of British Columbia and the Yukon reached one-third of their journey towards the $49,000,000 public quota. Since noon on Thursday 18,711 public applications brought in $3,500,000.

At this time in the Fifth Loan, the public had only reached the quarter post.

Large applications are more than half-way to the quota set for such investments. Public investments and large applications combined have reached 38 per cent of the over all quota of $120,000,000.

Form-Filling Initial Worry Of Newsmen Visiting London

By H. T. MATSON
Special Colonist Correspondent

LONDON, April 28 (By Cable).—The 12 Canadian newspaper representatives, who are now in London attendant on the meetings of Dominion Prime Ministers, today finished up their form-filling troubles with eclat and glee.

[illegible] has been pretty hard on pencils, but today through the smooth efficiency of Campbell Moodie overseas representative of the Wartime Information Board and his alert assistant, C. J. Young, all newspapermen finally obtained their ration and press cards as well as an audience with John Jobson, director of reception and facilities at the British Ministry of Information.

Jobson is the wire-pulling expert who arranges trips down to coastal defence areas, visits to bomber stations, naval bases and their ilk, and his assistance will be incalculably helpful.

The journalists also received a useful priming on censorship by Admiral Thompson, chief censor at the Ministry of Information, as well as something of a shock when informed that the letters and cables they had dispatched to their distant [illegible] about 14 days.

They are all well and very busy familiarizing themselves with the ways of wartime London.

As yet no air raid, but some of the damage of previous raids has already been visited by this correspondent, and the sight is truly cruel. Londoners hurdle this aspect almost with indifference. More raids will come they know, but they will accept them as heretofore with their inexorable fortitude. Londoners are enigmatical. Nothing will ever get them down.

Honest Weight in Scales

[illegible] service of those who are fighting overseas for Canada. They have held back nothing. Here at home we each must put something into the scales to balance that. Shall that be a half-effort, a feeble attempt, or a good honest try? There is only one answer: we must put honest weight into the scales if we are to attempt to balance the outright and unrestricted sacrifices of those who are doing the fighting for us. That contribution will not be merely a measure of money but a measure of good faith, honest purpose and good heart. Men overseas are subscribing to the Sixth Victory Loan and counting on what they will do with the money when they come home. We must help to bring them home. We can do that by putting victory first. Every bond swells the national total, every fighting dollar counts.

British House Smothers Move To Annul Anti-Strike Ruling

LONDON, April 28 (CP).—The House of Commons smothered a move today to annul a defence regulation prescribing heavy penalties for strike instigators—a measure Labor Minister Ernest Bevin explained he had invoked when recent stoppages threatened to endanger the western front invasion.

By a vote of 314 to 23 the House rejected the "prayer" by Aneurin Bevan, Welsh Labor member, to rescind the order which provided penalties ranging up to five years imprisonment and a £2,000 fine for all [illegible]

Thus the House responded to the Labor Minister's plea for overwhelming support of the Government as an inspiration to the British forces. Mr. Bevin said, in an apparent reference to the recent work stoppages, "if ever bitterness did exist three weeks ago in an army it existed in ours. We had evidence of it."

The vote came after members were told by the Labor Minister that Britain had been in danger of work stoppages involving nearly 2,000,000 men in essential industries.

This was in answer to Mr. Bevan's "prayer" for annulment, a step which lay within Parliament's power to take 28 days after issuance of the order.

Mr. Bevan accused the Minister, once a powerful trades union official, of "reducing parliamentary procedure to a farce, and of having 'started a campaign of calumny against the miners.'" He also called the regulation an "affront to Parliament, which had never failed to produce emergency legislation speedily when necessary."

[illegible] though Labor Minister declared "we had been living on an industrial volcano during the weeks before the order was announced.

The debate is expected to have repercussions in the Labor Party, where 14 members joined nine others in opposition to the Government. The bolters may be reprimanded at the next meeting of the Parliamentary Labor Party, because their action is contrary to the policy of the party which decided by a big majority to support the regulation.

More Than Half of Canadians Over 14 in Forces or at Work

OTTAWA, April 28 (CP).—The general shortage of manpower in Canada likely will continue throughout this year, because of demands of the armed forces and of essential industries, Labor Minister Mitchell told the Commons today.

Introducing his departmental war estimates Mr. Mitchell said that:

1. Demands of the armed forces for men were becoming increasingly difficult to fulfill.

2. Further postponements of young men in industry will have to be curtailed and men now on deferments may be made available for the armed forces.

3. The number of Canadians at work and in the armed forces has increased 35 per cent in the war period.

4. At December 31, 1943, 5,057,000 or 57 per cent of the Canadian population of 8,820,000 persons, 14 years or older, were in the armed forces or at work.

5. War production was on unprecedent scale last year despite the fact that more men and women were in the forces than at any time in Canadian history.

6. The peak of labor demand came in September, 1943, when 218,000 workers were needed, this now had dropped to 92,300, excluding logging, with 35,000 persons available for work but not yet referred to jobs.

Many other topics occupied the session.

Group Capt Denton Massey (PC—Toronto Greenwood) said that when he returned recently from overseas on a brief leave he found "almost a carnival spirit prevailing in anticipation of the victory undoubtedly will come, but which has not yet come."

"There appears to be a lack of appreciation in Canada that Canada's young men are daily dying so that the people at home might live in British freedom," Group Captain Massey said. "These days seem as gilded and as giddy as those of 1929."

Earlier Defence Minister Ralston, the Government's proposed national acting House leader, announced that housing legislation would be wide enough to provide houses for those in the armed forces whose dependents require emergency accommodation.

Colonel Ralston read a telegram sent by the dependents' board of trustees to advisory committees throughout Canada pointing out that special allowances to dependents of men in the forces could be provided in cases of special need, such as when accommodation was required or travel was necessary.

A report tabled for the Commons elections committee said that the committee believed direct voting in Federal elections would be more satisfactory to the majority of those in the armed services, rather than voting by proxy.

Tabling his departmental estimates, Mr. Mitchell said the time is approaching when it will be necessary to rely largely on men on deferment and those coming of age to fill the requirements of the armed forces.

Response of women to calls to take jobs and release men for the forces and essential work was "spectacular," Mr. Mitchell said. At October 1, 1943, there were 1,075,000 women employed as compared with 638,000 in August, 1939.

The department was conscious of the need for farm labor and "we shall avail ourselves of every possible source of help for farm work during the coming season," he said. Extensive plans are under discussion with the Department of National Defence.

Mr. Mitchell said that a pronounced labor shortage in lumbering and logging had been met in various ways and during the first five weeks of this year there were 6,000 more placements than in the corresponding period of last year. Despite earlier predictions of a reduced cut it now was expected the 1944 production would equal 1943.

U.S., Britain on Common Ground

LONDON, April 28 (CP).—Britain and the United States have reached a "large measure of common ground" on a wide field of subjects dealing with current and postwar problems, as a result of the conferences of Edward R. Stettinius Jr., United States undersecretary of state, with high British officials, a joint communique announced tonight.

Informal talks "have been of great assistance in the task of co-ordinating policies and all those concerned in both Governments have expressed great satisfaction with the results," the communique said.

During the three-week period "opportunities have been taken to keep the Soviet and Chinese Governments informed as to the course of discussions," it added.

The announcement said Stettinius and the delegation which accompanied him have been visiting Britain during the last three weeks on behalf of Cordell Hull, United States Secretary of State.

The talks were described as "informal and exploratory exchanges of views."

"The discussions have covered important current questions and others that will become of importance as hostilities draw to a close, and also long-range questions in connection with the postwar period," the announcement continued.

"In all fields the discussions have revealed a very large measure of common ground. The talks have been of great assistance in the task of co-ordinating policies and all those concerned in both Governments have expressed great satisfaction with the results."

G. J. Desbarats Dies at Ottawa

OTTAWA, April 28 (CP).—First deputy minister of National Defence following the amalgamation of the military, naval and air force services in 1922, George Joseph Desbarats, C.M.G., known throughout the Dominion for the civic and military services he had rendered his country, died late tonight at his home here following an illness of several months. He was 81 years of age.

Mr. Desbarats was born in Quebec. His father, the late George E. Desbarats, was the Queen's Printer, and his mother was the former Lucienne Bosse.

Appointed director of the Government shipyard at Sorel, Que., in 1901, Dr. Desbarats was responsible for the transformation from wooden ship construction to steel. In 1907 he became deputy minister of Marine and Fisheries.

When the Canadian Navy attained greater prominence in the defence administration of the Dominion, Dr. Desbarats was appointed deputy minister of the new department. At that time it comprised besides the naval service, the hydrographic survey, the tidal surveys and Canada's first radio service.

With the outbreak of the First Great War, Dr. Desbarats continued as deputy minister of naval service and was responsible for providing a fleet of ships to patrol Canadian coastal waters.

He advised the British Government on the construction of trawlers and submarines, and developed his department to act as purchasing agent in Canada for the Admiralty, shipping overseas consignments of food and clothing for the British Navy.

In 1922 navy, military and air services were combined and Dr. Desbarats remained as deputy minister to the greatly increased defence administration. Naval dockyards at Halifax and Esquimalt came under his supervision.

In the field of engineering he pioneered in the comparatively new sphere presented by the Royal Canadian Corps of Signals by maintaining radio communications throughout the Mackenzie Valley and the Yukon Territory and establishing radio and direction-finding stations to the first air mail routes.

massed in Southeast England Channel ports.

The Berlin communique also said that Nazi motor torpedo boats attacked a destroyer-escorted British convoy on the English south coast this morning, torpedoing a destroyer and sinking three of the convoyed vessels.

"The latest naval clashes off the Atlantic Coast and in the Channel," said a German High Command spokesman as quoted by the Berlin radio, "and finally the glaringly obvious displacement of the centre of gravity of the Anglo-American air raids to the occupied western territories and to the strategic communications centres of Southwestern Germany, must of necessity be regarded primarily from the general point of view of the expected onslaught."

Another Nazi commentator, Capt. Ludwine Sertorious, added this observation:

"The striking increase of combat activity in the Mediterranean off Corsica and in the Ligurian Sea has been observed. This deserves the closest attention in view of the possibility of new Allied landings, possibly in conjunction with the repeatedly postponed great western invasion."

FORECAST "D" DAY MAY 2 TO MAY 17

One Capt. Karl Henrik Falkman, a commentator unknown in London but described by the Swedish radio as a Swedish naval expert, broadcast one of the most detailed predictions on invasion yet aired from the Continent, stating "D" day would come between May 2 and May 17, and probably in broad daylight.

This commentator forecast that the main attack would take place across the Channel either between the Seine and Cherbourg or between Calais and the Scheldt River, whose mouth is near Antwerp, Belgium.

"It may be estimated," he said, "that six or seven British battleships and two American battleships will be taking part in the operation. Parachute troops in numbers not hitherto believed possible will be dropped behind German defence lines and at strategical key points."

He said the exact date of the invasion depended upon the difference between high and low tide, and that "the smallest difference occurs about 48 hours after the quarter of the moon. The moon's first quarter will be April 30 and the last quarter on May 15."

Praises Work of Victory Loan Salesmen

Addressing Victory Loan salesmen at a meeting yesterday, Dr. Norman A. MacKenzie, K.C., president-elect of the University of British Columbia and chairman of the Wartime Information Board, expressed faith that the Sixth Victory Loan would go over the top before the end of the campaign.

Having had an opportunity of observing activities of the National War Finance Committee across Canada, Dr. MacKenzie congratulated the local committee upon its organization which, he said, was patterned after other soliciting bodies in Canada, but might well be an example not only in its completeness but in the enthusiasm displayed by the workers.

Dr. MacKenzie paid tribute to the men and women in the field who work for long hours before, during and after the campaigns to the end that every citizen is given an opportunity to subscribe and every possible dollar turned into war service.

A distinguished veteran of the last war, Dr. MacKenzie said that thanks to the support of previous loans the equipment and material furnished the Canadian troops today is second to none.

Largest Day In Loan Drive

OTTAWA, April 28 (CP).—The National War Finance Committee announced tonight that sales of Sixth Victory Loan Bonds yesterday amounted to $74,965,400, representing the largest dollar total so far reached in the current loan. Cumulative sales total now stand at $371,280,000—a little more than $2,000,000 below the corresponding business day in last Autumn's Fifth Victory Loan.

A spokesman for Victory Loan headquarters said that up until this morning 384,237 applications had been received for bonds, compared with 385,930 at the same period in the Fifth Victory Loan.

The campaign, with an objective of $1,200,000,000, opened April 24, and will last three weeks.

The Army was the first of the services to go over the top, announcing tonight that it had 106 per cent of its $13,750,000 objective. The R.C.A.F. reported 81.8 per cent of a $10,500,000 goal. The Royal Canadian Navy had more than 60 per cent of its $3,500,000 objective, but it had not figures from overseas as yet or from a number of ships at sea.

Naval spokesmen estimated that if overseas figures were included the navy would be "very close" to its objective.

First reports were received today from the payroll canvass in the Canadian National Railways and its subsidiary companies, Trans-Canada Air Lines and National Railways Munitions. Employees of these companies, numbering 29,100, purchased $3,721,950 worth of Victory Bonds in the first four days of the present loan, a substantial increase over the same period in the previous loan.

With large corporate purchases received up until tonight totaling $30,700,000, it was estimated that the total of purchase to be announced tomorrow after complete returns are in would not be below $325,000,000.

How It Started—

By JEAN NEWTON

NEW IRELAND—
A Misnomer

It comprises about one thousand eight hundred square miles of Pacific Ocean jungle, mountains and volcanoes—about as different from Ireland as one can imagine.

That was not, however, the way Philip Carteret saw it when he first glimpsed it in 1767.

Carteret must have seen it through homesick eyes, or perhaps it was just a daydream, at any rate, from a distance, Carteret fancied a resemblance to the terrain of Eire and he proceeded to christen it New Ireland.

There had been earlier "discoverers." Jacob Lemaire and William C. Schouten had sighted "New Ireland" a century and a half before Carteret, they thought it was part of the adjacent land formations.

For a long time conflicting claims of ownership agitated European powers: in 1884 a German protectorate was established over New Ireland and other islands in the vicinity which became known as the Bismarck Archipelago, at the end of World War I, the League of Nations mandated the area to Australia; soon after Pearl Harbor it was overrun by the Nipponese.

Lying to the north of New Britain, from which it is separated by the narrow Saint George's Channel, New Ireland has been the scene of some of the bitterest fighting in the Southern Pacific.

From it, at the time of writing, the Japs are being smoked out side by each, to the last individual.

"But there's a Telephone in the house now ... Why can't I have service?"

This man, who has just moved from one residence to another, cannot understand why wartime restrictions prevent him from having telephone service, when there is already a telephone in place.

The answer is that the telephone set is only one of many things necessary to provide service. There are many links in the chain and one missing link will prevent service. For example, there may be no line from the house to the telephone pole; there may be no spare circuits in the cable to the central office; or there may not be enough central office equipment. We cannot add any equipment for unessential service until after the war.

War demands must come first and the material that is ordinarily used for telephone equipment must now go into such essential things as aeroplanes, ships and tanks. Factories, machines and personnel that used to produce telephone equipment are now needed to fill war orders.

Many Attend Drama Events

The School Drama Festival continued at a good pace yesterday, again playing before packed auditoriums, with presentation of seven plays, three in the afternoon at St. Margaret's School, and four in the evening at Victoria High School. Adjudicator, actress and author in her own right, Mrs. Phoebe Smith discussed the performances at the conclusion of each set.

Well loved operetta, "Hansel and Gretel," by pupils of St. Margaret's School, and first performance of the afternoon, was a charming production, enjoyed as much by the very young actresses as it was by the audience. Clever lighting and picturesque settings set off by a large group of colorfully-costumed young people who were delightful in their naturalness, made this play step right out of the storybook.

The cast: Peter, Louise Hamilton; Gertrude, Isabel Henley; Hansel, Susan Teakle; Gretel, Susan Streliel; Witch, Rosemary Noakes; Sandman, Jane Clegg; Dawn Fairy, Marie Elisabeth Milburn.

"Passion, Poison and Petrification," by pupils of Strathcona Lodge School, was truly an experiment in exaggeration and outstanding production. The cast put on a notable performance. Stage props and lighting effects were particularly well done and costuming was more than adequate. The "Lady" and "Adolphus" displayed a fine sense of the ridiculous, and the whole cast gave an exceptionally fluid performance.

The cast: Lady Magneata, Diana Jenkins; Phyllis, Pat Brown; Fitsiollemache, Helen Macmillan; Adolphus, Judy Humphreys; landlord, Drusilla Cowan; doctor, Harriet Lundberg; policeman, June Waller.

Familiar "H.M.S. Pinafore," by pupils of St. Margaret's School, was highlighted by pretty costuming and lively musical effects. Colorful setting made a pleasing picture. Teamwork and action even on the part of lesser players was excellent.

The cast: Sir Joseph, Anthea Kearley; captain, Helen Aitken; Josephine, Joyce Lytton; Ralph, Annette Clarke; Buttercup, Ruth Anderson; Dick, Elspeth MacDonald; boatswain, Jocelyn Collison; Hebe, Deborah Harrison.

QUALICUM BEACH SCHOOL PRESENTS "GOLDEN HIND"

First presentation of the evening, "Golden Hind," by pupils of Qualicum Beach School, presented a most effective picture on the opening curtain, candles providing a dramatic lighting effect. An excerpt from Drake's life, costuming was pleasing and in period, and stage grouping was well thought out. Performers worked well together to present an enjoyable play.

The cast: Diego, Gerald Newberry; Wynter, Arthur Hughes; Caube, Algernon Parker; Fletcher, Deane Manning; Chester, Tom Lambe; Vicary, John MacNaughton; Thomas, Reay Buckingham; Mr Charles, Pat Hume; Drake, Russell Isaac; Moone, Dennis Thulin; Gregory, Lewin Molliliet; Doughty, John Newbery; Bright, Michael Butler; Brewer, Allan Herrington; Cooke, Jeremy Rougier.

"The Lovely Miracle," by pupils of Victoria High School, was a most difficult play to perform and an original entry. This creative effort was handled by the cast with creditable control and simplicity. Lighting and stage effects were outstandingly clever, and the play was well cast.

The cast: Mother, Margaret Pike; daughter, Thelma Brown; neighbor, Mary Paterson; young man, Malcolm MacDonald.

When the curtain rose on "Make Room for Rodney," by pupils of Victoria High School, the audience expected an immediate hit, and they were not disappointed. This outstandingly successful production had a remarkably natural "Rodney" and an excellent supporting cast. "Rodney," a young man who wants to get his sister married so he can have her room for his collections, might have been anyone's young brother, and displayed a fine sense of comedy both in animated expression and gestures. The whole cast worked as a team to make this an animated production.

Tonight honor performance at Victoria High School will feature three good contrasting plays chosen by the adjudicator from the entire entry list, and are listed below. For this evening, at which the Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. W. C. Woodward will be present, there will be a dedication of the honor roll for members of the Provincial Drama Association by Capt. F. H. Wheatley, M.C., M.M., of Pacific Command Headquarters. A military band will be in attendance and on the stage will be representatives of the three armed services. Alderman Mrs. M. D. Christie will also speak.

Following the last play, the adjudicator, introduced by Major Bullock-Webster, will give her impressions of the festival as a whole.

The following are the plays chosen for the honor performance:

"The Princess and the Woodcutter," by Central Junior High School, "Good Night Caroline" by pupils of Oak Bay High School and "Auf Wiedersehen," by Mount View High School.

At the Theatres

"Blossom Time" Will End Tonight

One of the highlights in the history of theatrical costuming was the American premiere of "Blossom Time," which the Messrs. Shubert presented at Boston's Wilbur Theatre in 1921.

To costume the operetta, the Shuberts selected Max Weldy, the Parisian, whose imaginative creations had already won him a reputation second to none.

The New York all-star revival celebrating "Blossom Time's" 23rd anniversary presents the final Victoria performance tonight at the Royal Theatre.

Along with the new sets and scenery, the operetta has been equipped with fresh period costumes. But with all of the streamlining, the producers have been careful to preserve the charm and atmosphere of old Vienna—Vienna of the 1820's—an age of powdered wigs and pantalettes, in which a gentleman was measured by the number of ruffs on his dickey, and a lady by the number of petticoats she could afford.

"Blossom Time" provides an excellent picture of the changing cycle of fashion, in which it is really apparent that the vogue of the day before yesterday usually becomes a la mode tomorrow. The colorful operetta proves also that modern dress designs inevitably fall back on the classical creations of past eras.

Bing Crosby appears in the title role of the production.

CADET THEATRE Stark Wild West action with cattle stampedes and gun fights, is to be found in Universal's major melodramatic thriller "Frontier Badmen," which ends today at the Cadet Theatre. Robert Paige, Anne Gwynne and Diana Barrymore head the cast. There is romance, too, in the new production, which deals lavishly with the perils encountered by pioneer cattlemen along the old Chisholm Trail.

CAPITOL THEATRE "The Uninvited," the amusing psychological melodrama about a group of terrified people attempting to solve the strange mystery of a haunted house, will end tonight at the Capitol Theatre. The stars of the film are Ray Milland, Ruth Hussey and Donald Crisp.

DOMINION THEATRE To lend even more authenticity to the highly documented film, "The Fighting Seabees," which is now showing at the Dominion Theatre, Producer Albert J. Cohen ordered Republic camera crews to ... John Wayne starrer. These shots were not written into the original script but Cohen felt they brought the theme of the picture closer home for the public.

OAK BAY AND PLAZA THEATRES "The Kansan," which stars Richard Dix, Jane Wyatt and Albert Dekker, ends tonight at the Oak Bay and Plaza Theatres. It is a romantic adventure yarn laid in a tough frontier town in Kansas during the 1870's, and has Victor Jory and Robert Armstrong prominently featured in the big-name cast.

RIO THEATRE A new screen "menace" looms in the person of Otto Preminger, who in but two performances on the screen has established himself as one of the outstanding character actors in all Hollywood. His latest role is that of the Nazi consul in "Margin for Error," which also features Joan Bennett and Milton Berle. The picture ends tonight at the Rio Theatre.

YORK THEATRE An eternity of love packed into eight precious days, Columbia's "They Dare Not Love," ends its engagement at the York Theatre today. With George Brent and Martha Scott starred, the new film is a romance told amid scenes of timely adventure. In the cast, in addition to the stars, are Paul Lukas, Roman Bohnen and Kay Linaker. James Whale directed.

Moving Day Near

With notices to vacate becoming valid on May 1, movers and warehousemen note a tremendous increase in business, one company reporting a 300 per cent increase this month. Added to those forced to move, there are servicemen going East and retired persons coming to Victoria to cope with. Many of the latter have to store their furniture until they have either built or bought homes.

Housing Registry officials here have reported 203 families listed to move soon. By April 30, 126 will be required to move, 51 more by the end of May and a further 26 have received notices to vacate before September.

H. R. Barnett, Central Cartage, reports the biggest increase in calls in the 25 years he has been in business. Stocker's report even their new warehouse almost filled. If facilities were available, one company reports it could move eight times the household goods usually handled in one month.

Conditions are described as "terrific" by another large company which has a great deal of incoming goods to store. "People continue to arrive from the Prairies, intending to retire in our fair climate," this official stated. "I think the housing situation is getting worse," he added.

Spencer, Red Cross secretary, thanking the workers for their monthly donation of $20. A satisfactory financial report was given by the treasurer, Mrs. D. Johnston. Refreshments were served by Mrs. R. Knight and Mrs. D. Johnston, and hostesses for the next meeting will be Mrs. A. Hull and Mrs. R. Riekki.

Kennedy Doubts Bootleg Story

VANCOUVER, April 28 (CP)—Reports of wholesale liquor sales to bootleggers here were discounted by W. F. Kennedy, chairman of the Liquor Control Board, in a statement tonight.

Mr. Kennedy was commenting on reports that bootleggers were being offered liquor for sale by the case or at $8.50 a bottle.

The allegation was that individuals with permits belonging to members of the armed forces who had been transferred outside the province were using coupons each month to establish a private stock of whisky which they subsequently disposed of in case lots to bootleggers.

Let us deeply resolve that we will not fail on our own part of the battlefield.

Canada and the Empire

Prime Minister the Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King has flown to London, to take part there in an Empire conference of national leaders under the British flag and crown. In his absence, this newspaper will not join the ranks of those who are belaboring him, assuming that he will say this, fearful least he say that. The only clear mandate that Mr. King has in his pocket is one from the people of Canada, who, whatever their party affiliations, are very much of one mind about the British Empire. They wish to remain in it, add their strength to the common pool, and to see it grow as a right influence for good in the world.

Mr. King quite certainly cannot speak in London for the Liberal party alone. He is there as the Prime Minister of Canada, representing all of the people. This nation will hope that he speaks up, and that what he says will truly reflect the wishes of our land. In the days that are to come Canada must take her stand squarely and fully abreast of her national, Empire and international obligations. We cannot pussyfoot now. As a nation we have obligations as well as rights. As part of the British Empire we are part of a great world force, which would become meaningless if it sundered. Internationally, Canada is as much in the world as she ever was, and that cannot be otherwise.

Upon all three counts, this country has a job of work to do. It is so to develop Canada that she will be strong at home, ready and willing to bear her share of the Empire's tasks, and patient and wise in the councils of those nations which one day, and perhaps one day soon, will speak for the freedom-loving orders of mankind. It is as the leader of a great nation that Mr. King is in London now. There should be, there must be no littleness in anyone who speaks for Canada today.

Self-Acting Citizens

The continuing need in this country today is for men and women who will think things out and then act upon their own convictions, without frenzied appeals, exhortations and sometimes circuses. It does not take much thought to determine that if nobody helped there would be no war effort, or that if everybody helped there would be a maximum war effort. The war effort, it is plain, must precede the victory, else there can be no termination to the fighting, no victory and no return to more normal times.

Canada's response to the Sixth Victory Loan should come from the inner conviction of the individual that he has a job of work to do, and that no one else can do that for him. That is literally the exact position. If our people had seen the face of war that our men overseas have seen they would be crowding into queues to buy Victory bonds, to add their personal effort to this nation's will and purpose. For there can be no question about the need, nor about the obligation of the citizen in relation to that need.

Our queues, unfortunately, seem to be reserved for motion picture shows, the cake stalls and the five o'clock buses, in a daily round that is so busy that there is not sufficient time for constructive thought. A little quiet reflection would cure that. A moment's honest thought would show that Canada cannot half-fight anywhere. She must fight everywhere and with all of the means in her power. Only so will come victory, only so will any lasting peace be earned. At this moment all citizens with idle or potential savings in this country are faced with a directly personal question. It is have they acted to discharge an obligation which is theirs, and which no one else can redeem? Only actions count.

Doers and Dreamers

The Toronto Globe and Mail, which has not been over friendly to the administration in power at Ottawa, took up the cudgels the other day on the part of a man in public office who had been, as it believed, unfairly criticized. Under the title of "Two Types of Men," the Toronto journal in the following paragraphs made a much wider appeal to reason and common sense than the special argument which was under discussion. We quote:

"When Mr. M. J. Coldwell in the House of Commons undertook to criticize Mr. C. L. Burton, whose unselfish public service has been recognized by bestowing on him the order C.B.E., he invited attention to two types of citizens. One of these is represented by Mr. Coldwell and the other by Mr. Burton. One lives in the clouds of imagery, the other on the solid earth of realism. One preaches, the other practices. One tells what he will make others do for his fellow-beings, the other is busy doing all he can and enlisting the co-operation of others to help his fellowmen. One takes, the other gives. One is of the breed reared in the dissatisfactions of another land, the other has roots in the proud achievements of his native country.

"Mr. Burton was the object of Mr. Coldwell's sneers. He is, the latter averred, 'a gentleman who should have nothing to say with regard to educational expenditures.' Why? Because he had given a newspaper interview stating that children should start to work when they were about 14. Mr. Burton's expressed view was that a boy whose bent was for a trade or business should not have to waste years of his life on useless academic studies. One of the most distinguished departmental heads of the University of Toronto, and one of the most highly regarded of educators anywhere, is a brother of the man against whom the national leader of the Socialists makes his ridiculous charge, considering him unfit for the position he occupies as chairman of the War Services Advisory Board.

"War Services Minister LaFleche came to the defence with the observation that he had not found in Mr. Burton 'the slightest trace of narrow-mindedness, whether it be in education or anything else.' Mr. Coldwell would be well advised to note these words, for they carry another contrast between him and the object of his smears. Mr. Burton's broad-mindedness is as well known as his clearness of mind, his frankness in expressing his considered opinions, and the devotion to public welfare which takes so much of his time and energy. He is even now recovering from illness brought on by his ardent concentration on patriotic work in this war.

"No one in the House, remarked Mr. J. R. MacNicol, had a humbler beginning than Mr. Burton. He is a successful business man, and hence of that type Mr. Coldwell and those who think with him would drive out of existence. Who is Mr. Coldwell himself? Did he start with nothing and amount to something of value to the country? He is from England, where he received a university education, emigrating to this country presumably because he thought he could better himself here. Now, like the rest of his crowd, he thinks Canada not good enough for him, and wants to make it over, by destroying the opportunities which heretofore have enabled boys of energy, ambition and talent to attain success."

H.M.C.S. Beacon Hill

A letter in the correspondence columns today from Mr. Norman Yarrow, her builder, gives reasons for the spelling of Victoria's own frigate as H.M.C.S. Beacon Hill. There has been confusion on the point for some time, fostered partly by what was officially announced from other circles at the time of her construction and launching. But there is not much doubt that her builder must be correct. It was on the hill above the park that old-time beacons were lighted to guide shipping into this port in the days of sailing vessels. Two beacons in line gave mariners their approach, avoiding treacherous shoals off the harbor mouth. That hill, then and now, was Beacon Hill.

No more fitting name could have been chosen. It was on the headlands at Beacon Hill that early pioneers gathered to watch for the long-awaited sight of a sail, or later the smoke of a steam packet. The beacons were large bonfires, material for which was always kept dry and in readiness. Beacon Hill was a meeting place, and to it in those days the townspeople would wander when a vessel was known to be due. Perhaps more treed than at present, Beacon Hill was valued in itself as a beauty spot, where sunshine, sea air and a panorama of Olympian grandeur blended.

Much later, Beacon Hill was still a gathering place, the spot where thousands would go to watch the fireworks which ended customary public holidays and special celebrations. Its development as one of the most beautiful natural parks in British Columbia has been gradual, but always it was built around the magnificent setting of the scene itself. So the name Beacon Hill is one rich in meaning for Victoria, and it is fitting that spelling of the ship should coincide with the place it represents.

Seen in Passing

It is the custom to complain of tax collections, and sometimes also to treat the collectors with something less than ordinary courtesy. That prompts us to say that the Dominion income tax offices in Victoria have in the last few years established an earned reputation for their courteous and considerate treatment of the public that will long outlive the present confusion over the tax.

Uplands in Spring

God's finger here has written on the grass
In letters dyed in blue and edged in gilt—
Camas of blue, gold buttercups. I pass,
Starring earth's page with beauty, tuned to lilt
Of skylarks who are pouring joy abroad
Above old oaks along the twisting lane.
Ah, for a lifetime in my heart I'll hoard
This perfect scene. Each Spring to come again
To meadows gleaming by this sapphire sea,
To walk among wild flowers whose loveliness
Is solace in our world. Serenity
Is born of such sweet wonder. I confess
That life is richer since I have to hold
This picture, painted all in blue and gold.

Soft, silken to the touch.
A tangled mop the youngster's crop,

On the Record—

By DOROTHY THOMPSON

THE BIG THREE— AND THE OTHERS

The British Government, after consultation with American and Russian representatives, has taken a drastic step to prevent leakages of information from the British Isles. As far as I know the step is unprecedented. The essential diplomatic privileges and immunities of communication between diplomats and their governments or peoples have been abrogated. This holds for representatives of neutral governments and of all Allied governments, with the exception of the Big Three.

The customary privileges have been: to send telegrams in code; to transmit letters through sealed pouches, and to maintain diplomatic couriers. A neutral ambassador might, himself, go home to report. All this is now forbidden. The only privilege that has been granted in respect of communications is that of transmitting messages through the British Foreign Office and the British embassies in neutral countries, which means that the British Government—in collaboration with the American and Russian—is to become, for an unstated length of time, the political trustee of all governments represented on the British Isles.

There are people in the United States who are laying bets that there will be no invasion of the Continent this Spring. But the moment when the Germans heard of this new measure they placed their own bets on the other side. For unless such a step were very soon followed by military events, political repercussions would be very bad.

It seems obvious that information regarding planned landings would be of prime interest to the governments of the countries immediately affected. It would also be of great interest to some neutrals. A Balkan campaign would interest Turkey, a landing in Norway would greatly concern Sweden; a landing in Southern France would affect Spain. If Spain were involved the whole of Latin America would be concerned.

It is also obvious that the withdrawal of privileges from any specific countries would be revealing of plans and discriminatory. No self-respecting government could accept special measures in regard to itself.

So what is implicit in the action is first, that military events are going to occur, and, second, that the three Allied governments who will do the fighting are taking no chances. Those chances are that neutral or even Allied governments of countries involved in military plans, however sympathetic they are, might try to prepare their home authorities; and, second, that somewhere among the staffs of the embassies and ministries, there might be Axis agents. That has happened many times even in the best conducted embassies.

The German radio, of course, is tossing about "ruthlessness," "hysteria," "never happened in Germany," "Hitler never did," etc. That would seem to justify it. It should also be replied that Hitler did not need to do it, since his major moves in this war were all blitzes, either against countries with whom he had non-aggression treaties or against neutrals, whereas our war has to be, to a certain extent, in the open.

However, we wish that this procedure had been accompanied by strong reassurances to the European and other states. In so far as I have been able to gauge the reactions of representatives in the United States of those states, they are, "Well, we hope this sort of thing does not become a habit, and we hope that it is not a precedent."

There is already far too much apprehension that the three big powers are going to settle things pretty much as they choose. The result is an uneasy political atmosphere and more reservations in co-operation than would otherwise be necessary. For a small country trilateral actions are the same as unilateral actions. The small countries all together, represent more people than Great Britain and Russia, and there is no disposition amongst them to abdicate in favor of any two European powers or of the United States.

So a political reassurance should again accompany this drastic act of military necessity, taking imaginative account of the feelings of our smaller and conquered Allies and of sympathetic neutrals. I don't imagine that — for instance—the Queen of Holland or the President of Czecho-Slovakia, however gracefully they may accept this measure, enjoy any shadow of an utterance that precautions must be taken against them.

"BEACON HILL"

Sir,—I have read with particular pleasure the newspaper articles regarding the response that is being made by citizens of Victoria to the appeal for additional comforts for the personnel of Victoria's warship, which our firm has the honor of building.

I notice that the name of the ship is not spelled quite correctly, inasmuch as it is referred to as "Beaconhill," whereas it is actually two words, "Beacon Hill."

On reference to the recognized authority, namely Walbran's "British Columbia Coast Names," it will be seen that the name is two words; incidentally there, "hill" is spelled with a small "h," which possibly may have led to the name having been consolidated in one word.

The particular hill in question (which is a well-known landmark in Victoria) used to have two beacons erected thereon, for the purpose of assisting mariners in their navigation, and from that fact it obtained its name, which it was given by the officers of the Hudson's Bay Company about 1843.

When we received the official advice from the Canadian Naval Department in Ottawa, early last October, of the name that had been allotted to Victoria's ship, they correctly stated it as "Beacon Hill," and I do feel that Victoria at least should refer with accuracy to the name of her own ship.

An elderly woman made a purchase in a local department store and was handed the article in a brown bag. "Please put this in a blue bag," she remarked to the clerk. "Certainly, madame," the clerk replied, with raised eyebrows. "A brown bag will not go with my ensemble," the woman explained . . . A visitor from the interior strolled down Fort Street to the Inner Harbor, and his eye caught a school of fish flitting through the greenish water like streaks of liquid silver. He leaned over a dock to get a better view, but suddenly remembered his false teeth were rather loose. He took them out and deposited them on top of a pile. At that instant a hungry seagull swooped down from the cloudless sky, grabbed the teeth, and disappeared over the top of a dock building. . . . During a political meeting at Montreal, a heckler insisted on shouting "liar" at disconcerting intervals. Finally the speaker roared: "If the man who persists in interrupting will be good enough to tell his name instead of his profession, I will be pleased to make his acquaintance." . . . Occidental drinking habits have long puzzled the Orient. An eminent Chinese visitor remarked some time ago: "You are indeed strange people. You take a glass, you put sugar in it to make it sweet, and lemon juice to make it sour. You put in spirits to keep you warm, and ice to keep you cool. You lift the glass with the strange mixture and say, 'Here's to you,' and then you drink it yourself." . . . Eric the Red is believed to have been the first real estate promoter. He boldly named a certain island Greenland in order to induce Scandinavians to colonize it.

suspicious of what is inaptly termed British imperialism.

Looking abroad, Canadians fear, adds The Times correspondent, attempts to develop a unified policy of the Commonwealth would create complications in Canadian relations with the United States and even with Russia.

But there is complete agreement nevertheless, that Commonwealth countries must work together and consult each other before coming to their own conclusions on those matters in which they have common objectives. Premier Mackenzie King warmly endorses this view.

No Prospect of Change in Tires

OTTAWA, April 28 (CP)—A Munitions Department spokesman said tonight there is no prospect whatever that Canada's system of tire rationing may be changed to permit motorists engaged in occupational driving to obtain new tires.

"There is nothing doing here at all; the system is not being changed," the spokesman said.

He was commenting upon a Washington dispatch saying that effective May 1 new tires will be provided for all occupational driving through a broadening of the list of eligible persons by the Office of Price Administration.

Under the Canadian rationing plan, announced by the Munitions Department in January, 1942, no new tires, casings or tubes can be purchased by other than doctors, visiting nurses, police and fire departments, those operating mail truck, buses and certain essential businesses and public services.

Persons buying new tires and tubes—if eligible to do so—are required to prove their need and deliver a used tire or tube when taking delivery of new ones.

The British Columbia-Yukon has invested, to date, $16,256,900. Adding $26,864,500 from large applications, the total is now $43,121,000.

The armed forces are heading rapidly to the top with 85 per cent of their objective gained. The Vancouver division stepped up on Friday and is now leading all civilian divisions with 38 per cent, the Coast division being a fraction behind. Then follow the Yukon area with 25 per cent, Fraser Valley, 26 per cent; suburban and Okanagan, tied at 24 per cent; Vancouver Island, 23; Kootenays, 21; Northern British Columbia, 18 per cent.

The first Gulf Island sub-unit to go over the top was Galiano, reaching its $3,500 quota.

of the French Coast shortly after dusk, apparently in continuation of the uninterrupted series of smashes at Europe.

At the same time German planes prowled along the southeast coast of England during the night, but found the skies filled with anti-aircraft fire and night fighters. There were no immediate reports of any incidents.

The Allies in incessant attacks since Wednesday midnight have been dropping bombs at an average rate of six and a half tons per minute, night and day.

GREATEST SUSTAINED BOMBARDMENT IN HISTORY

In this greatest sustained aerial bombardment in history the Allies have put 3,500 planes over German-held Europe in 24 hours, and 7,500 in 48 hours. In two days they have dropped 18,500 tons of explosives and since April 15, when the "big push" got under way they have scourged Axis targets with approximately 70,000 tons.

It was estimated 4,800 tons of explosives were dropped in all the day's sorties.

All the Canadian bomber squadrons were out in the moonlight pounding Thursday night, in which railyards at Montzen in Belgium and Alnoye in France were battered in addition to the radio manufacturing centre of Friedrichshafen on the shores of Lake Constance.

The night operations cost 38 bombers, 11 of them Canadian. The R.C.A.F. heavies delivered their main blow at Alnoye but shared in the hammering of the other principal targets. Canadian planes laid mines in enemy waters and agile Mosquitos hurled block-busters on Stuttgart. Four enemy fighters were downed, one by Sqdn. Ldr. Howard Cleveland, of Vancouver, on a night intruder patrol.

Bomber fleets of both the American strategic and tactical air forces smashed in daylight at France. Two waves of planes—each numbering up to 250 heavy bombers and 500 fighters—began the day offensive with blows against the Cherbourg area, 70 miles across the English Channel, and the big Avord Airdrome 130 miles south of Paris.

BLAST REPAIR PLANT AT TOURS

Lightning fighters, newly converted into fighter-bombers, hit an airfield and repair plant at Tours and flew patrols as far inland as Reims, 150 miles from the coast, without sighting enemy aircraft.

Mediums and fighter-bombers struck at airfields in Central and Northern France, hitting parked planes, hangars and dispersal areas. One blow was aimed at enemy hangars at Le Bourget Field, Paris' main airport.

Light planes of the R.A.F. Second Tactical Air Force also hammered military objectives in Northern France and R.A.F. Mustangs destroyed an enemy plane southwest of Paris.

The Ninth American Tactical Air Force in an announcement called it an "eve of invasion" offensive and said the intensive campaign was designed to neutralize German air power, disrupt traffic and troops and supplies, and smash Nazi defence points in France and Belgium.

Fierce fighting was encountered by the force of R.A.F. and Canadian Lancasters which pounded Friedrichshafen, but opposition at Aulnoye and Montzen was relatively light.

Latest reconnaissance reports indicated that the Friedrichshafen raid its heaviest of the war, had severely damaged the Lowenthal plant which manufactures Dornier bombers. "Considerable damage" also was inflicted on the gear-cutting works of the Zahnradfabriken factory, one of the largest plants of its kind in the world.

Canadian-built Lancasters made their debut in the Moose Squadron, part of the force blasting Montzen. The Iroquois, Leaside and Snowy Owl Squadrons also smashed at the Belgian town. "Good solid blazes" were reported by P.O. Jack McNary and F.O. Fred Lotz, both of Windsor, Ont.

The Goose and Thunderbird Squadrons went to Friedrichshafen and the Tiger Squadron flew to Alnoye.

Bond-Buying at Yarrows Urged

Garry Culhane, president, Victoria local of the Boilermakers and Iron Shipbuilders Union, yesterday urged employees of Yarrows Ltd. to buy Victory Bonds through the company's payroll deduction plan. Resentment against the company following a dispute had caused low sales of bonds so far, he said. Yarrows employees bought $320,000 worth of bonds in the last drive.

His statement follows: "It has been brought to my attention that some of the employees in Yarrows have refused to buy war bonds through the company, claiming they prefer to purchase through the banks.

"It is unfortunate that resentment against the company should take such a form as to have a detrimental effect on the people's effort for victory.

"The purchase of Victory Bonds gives us all a chance to contribute to and participate in victory.

"We must all realize that the purchase of a Victory Bond has nothing to do with any company. We cannot hit back at the company by refusing to purchase bonds from it. It acts only as an agent for the sale of the bonds, and for the administration payroll deductions.

"It is our war, a people's war. Our determination will make it our victory to be followed by a people's peace which will make possible the building of a people's world. My advice to the men and women in the yards is: Put victory first and support the bond drive."

PHONE LINES DOWN

VANCOUVER, April 28 (CP)—Trees blown down across the British Columbia Telephone Company's lines 30 miles west of Princeton, B.C., tonight caused a three-hour failure in telephone communications between the West Coast and points East. The circuit went out at 7 o'clock and was restored at 10:30 p.m., P.D.T., tonight.

Layoff Dispute Situation Eases

Possibility of more serious developments in the layoff dispute at the Yarrows Ltd. shipyard has been averted.

Garry Culhane, president of the Boilermakers and Iron Shipbuilders' Union, issued the following statement yesterday after a meeting between union and management representatives:

"At a meeting between Yarrows management and union officials we received assurances that no further layoffs would be necessary. The situation has altered considerably owing to the fact that urgent repair work is being directed to the yard and it is expected that this will take up the employment slack."

For Yarrows, W. E. A. Barclay, paymaster, stated: "The company met a group representing unions with which it has agreements, and after some clarification of the present situation by the management, the company informed the representatives of the Boilermakers and Iron Shipbuilders' Union that as soon as sufficient work justified the hiring of more riveters, orders would be placed with Selective Service.

"The company could not guarantee the re-hiring of the five riveters affected as, owing to the union's demand that men be discharged rather than given a week's temporary layoff according to the plan formerly agreed upon, National Selective Service, besides selecting men to be taken out of the yards, had the selection of the men to be re-hired," he explained.

M.B.E. Winner Has Sister in Victoria

Warrant Officer H. W. Jeynes, R.C.A.S.C., who has been made a member of the Order of the British Empire, is a brother of Mrs. J. T. Potts, of Victoria, formerly of Edmonton. His home is at Rimbey, Alta.

By concealing his age, Jeynes got into uniform in the last war when he was only 14, and won a large number of awards as a crack shot.

Soon after the outbreak of the present war he enlisted again, and quickly attained the rank of sergeant-major. He went overseas with the First Division, served in Sicily and Italy, and is now back in England. He was mentioned in dispatches three times.

He has a brother in the Army Service Corps, and his brother-in-law, Captain Potts, was recently discharged after three years' service. Captain Potts was a pilot in the last war.

Most declarers, after playing today's deal, would have to talk mournfully about the "bad breaks" that had cost them their slam contract. The actual declarer had no complaint.

West opened the spade queen; declarer won and laid down the trump ace. When West played the ten declarer saw that he might run into a bad trump break, and instead of cashing the king (which of course led the trump nine, East won and led back the nine of diamonds. Declarer did not even consider finessing; he played the ace, then led a low club to dummy and finessed against the other trump honor that East had been shown to have.

After drawing East's trumps declarer cashed the club ace and received the bad news that West had a club stopper. This, however did not faze South for more than a second. He laid down his last trump, thus forcing West to discard. West found that a very unpleasant obligation. Squirm as he might, he had to blank his spade jack, or let go the diamond king, or give up his club stopper. Whichever he chose, declarer was assured of the rest of the tricks, and his slam contract.

IF YOUR CHILD IS THIN and NERVOUS

Try New, Improved Ovaltine

Children who are thin, nervous and under par, science has discovered, are often found to be eating foods which do not give them enough of the essential food elements everyone needs for health.

As a "protecting" food-drink, New, Improved Ovaltine adds to a child's meals the essential food elements most likely to be deficient in the diet.

Ovaltine furnishes a child with a significant portion of his daily requirement of Vitamins A, B1 and D, and the minerals Calcium, Phosphorus and Iron—also quick food-energy elements and high quality proteins — all for building sturdy bodies.

So—if your child is thin, nervous, under par, or eats poorly, why not start giving New, Improved Ovaltine regularly? Get Ovaltine at your drug or food store.

Navy Units Go Well Over Top

A chief and petty officers' mess that has grown from a handful of R.C.N. men to 300 members in H.M.C.S. Givenchy yesterday invested $1,150 in Sixth Victory Bonds. One of the oldest members of the senior N.C.O.'s mess, Chief Shipwright G. W. Walford, R.C.N.V.R., of Edmonton and Blue Ridge, Alberta, made the presentation to navy loan officials.

One of the R.C.N.'s West Coast examination vessels steamed into port today to report a total subscription of $1,850—160 per cent of their quota.

The former luxury yacht owned by Eric Hamber, once Lieutenant-Governor of British Columbia, is now on active duty, and has three Victoria officers included in her personnel. They include the commanding officer, Skpr. Lt. E. E. Kenney, R.C.N.R.; Chief Skpr. A. Proudfoot, R.C.N.R., and Chief Skpr. A. Ashley, R.C.N.R.

Men who keep the vital naval messages of war on the move have soared their quota to 162 per cent in the Island Division of the Sixth Victory Loan. The communication station is under Warrant Officer M. Armstrong, R.C.N.V.R., of Winnipeg.

A Victoria skipper, Lieut. A. H. Gosse, R.C.N.R., has led his tough Royal Canadian Navy minesweeper over the top in the Sixth Victory Loan, it was announced yesterday. Gaining second place in the highest subscriptions at this West Coast port, men of the Canadian sweeper have bought 160 per cent of their $5,250 goal.

H.M.C.S. Western Maid, former Fishermen Reserve ship under the command of Sub-Lt. Len Idiens, R.C.N.V.R., of Campbell River, ran up her victory pennant today. The seven-man crew has subscribed 200 per cent of their $200 quota.

Jennings, Vancouver.

Navy and Air Force Parades Next Week

Next week the Navy and the Air Force will lend their support to the sixth Victory Loan drive. On Wednesday the R.C.A.F. will hold a downtown parade. Falling in at 10.45 on Blanshard Street between Yates and Johnson Streets, the airmen will march down Yates to Government Street, thence via Fort and Broad Streets to View Street where a reviewing stand has been erected.

The R.C.A.F. Band will play on View Street until 12.15 and again between 2.30 and 4 p.m.

It is expected that two fighter aircraft will be placed on display on View Street during the week and facilities afforded for inspection by the public.

Saturday, May 6, will be Navy Day, with a big display of naval equipment and the Navy Band in attendance on View Street during the afternoon. The display will occupy five trailers and a flat truck, and ratings from the Naden torpedo and gunnery schools will explain the detail of the equipment.

PROFESSOR RELEASED

NEW YORK, April 28 (AP)—Prof. Georg Morgenstierne, brother of Wilhelm Morgenstierne, Norwegian Ambassador to the United States, has been released from Akershus prison in Norway, according to an article in the Stockholm newspaper Svenska Dagbladet, reported tonight to the Office of War Information.

MAJOR HAROLD BROWN

Well-known Victorian, who is the newly elected president and chairman of the board of directors of British Columbia Federation of Trade and Industry. Major Brown is prominent in business circles in the province and throughout Canada and was for many years president of Union Steamships Limited, of which company he is still a director. He has also served as president of the Vancouver Board of Trade, and been prominently identified with welfare and patriotic work in Vancouver and Victoria.

Stupendous Cost of World War To Dominion Is Pointed Out

The present war has already cost Canada more than $12,000,000,000 while the Great War cost only $1,696,000,000. "Truly a stupendous achievement for a country of 11,500,000 persons," Dr. Norman A. M. MacKenzie, LL.D., LL.M., M.M. and bar, recently appointed president of the University of British Columbia, said in a forceful appeal for the sixth Victory Loan before the Canadian Club at its Empress Hotel luncheon yesterday. Dr. MacKenzie, who is still connected with the University of New Brunswick, of which he has been president for some years, is active on Victory Loan committees both in Ottawa and New Brunswick, and returns to Ottawa by plane tomorrow for further conferences.

Costing $1.30 a day for every man, woman and child in the Dominion, the war budget has paid for training and equipment of more than 760,000 men and women, so that today the navy is third among United Nations, and about the prewar strength of the Royal Navy; the air force is fourth in the world, and the army numbers more than 465,000 and is one of the best equipped and most powerful fighting forces in the world for its size. Dr. MacKenzie explained further that Canada had 200,000 in the R.C.A.F., and supplied at least one-quarter of the flying strength of the R.A.F. The Dominion was also playing a leading part in the British Commonwealth Training Plan, which was now paying dividends in the air over bomb-tossed Europe.

"In addition we have financed Britain and our allies to the extent of close to $3,000,000,000, and we are fourth largest producer of war materials among the Allies," he declared, discounting criticism of the $1,000,000,000 "gift" to Britain, which, he stated, was in reality a gift of tanks and guns and munitions which Canada could not herself use.

ABOUT 38 PER CENT OF OUTPUT REQUIRED

"Only about 30 per cent of our output is required for the Canadian forces, and personally I think it wise policy to arm as many soldiers as possible to fight on our side," the speaker said. These orders meant work and wages for Canadian labor, and Allies were fighting "our battles," he emphasized.

In the record of achievement for which Victory Loans were paying, Dr. MacKenzie added two reasons for supporting the present drive, preventing inflation and building sound credit for the Dominion.

Losing the battle against inflation was second only in terms of consequences to losing the battle against the Germans and Japanese, he declared, citing the example of inflation in Germany and Austria after the last war when their money lost all value and made revolution inevitable, wiping out the middle class and giving rise to Nazism.

"If our Victory Loan is not a success, it will encourage our enemies, discourage our friends and damage our credit. If the war is drawn out unnecessarily, or if it results in stalemate, a compromise peace, our future will be less promising, our securities less valuable," he asserted.

In conclusion he warned against future dissension between the United States, Russia and the Commonwealth. "The United States and Britain and the Commonwealth must manage to maintain a real understanding, and groups within these countries should not create situations which cause difficulties," he declared.

Introduced by Prof. E. S. Farr, Victoria College, the speaker was thanked by F. E. Winslow. Rev. George Biddle, president, was in the chair.

The War Today

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON
A.P. War Analyst

Belated Tokio admission of Allied landings in Dutch New Guinea to seize strategically important air fields found Allied heavy bombers striking at Sorong on the northwest tip of the big island.

They were better than half way over the remaining gap between Hollandia and Southeastern Mindanao in the Philippines when they blasted Jefman airdrome, 670 miles northwest of their indicated Hollandia take-off.

That may be the direction of the next Allied leap-frog hop up the New Guinea causeway. In reviewing the surprising success of the now completed Hollandia operations that have trapped another 60,000 Japanese troops on New Guinea to their ultimate annihilation, War Secretary Henry Stimson noted that longer similar hops were to be expected. Occupation of Berau Peninsula, New Guinea would bring the vanguard of Allied troops in the Southwest Pacific within less than 600 miles of Mindanao and less than 500 miles from the eastern portion of Celebes Island flanking the Strait of Makassar. Sorong lies on the western shore of the peninsula. The big planes sank 10 troop-laden barges and other craft in their raid on its airstrip and harbor.

The official account did not say which way those barges were moving. Presumably they were hurrying reinforcements to the garrisons of what remains of New Guinea in Japanese hands, a clear indication that Tokio expects immediate Allied exploitation of the Hollandia operations in an effort to sweep all New Guinea clear of Nipponese resistance and turn it into a jump-off base for re-entry into the Philippines.

Window Displays To Feature War

Window shoppers next week will receive an education in war and war services through the co-operation of local merchants with the Victory Loan Committee.

Equipment, souvenirs, posters and other display material is at a premium as through the co-operation of the Retail Merchants' Association windows are being prepared for entry by many of the stores in a contest being organized by A. Stewart, advertising manager of the B.A. Paint Company.

Judges will be Gordon Harris, display manager, David Spencer Ltd.; Herbert Sabiston, of the B.C. Electric, and H. Sparrow, of Hudson's Bay Company. Fifty dollar War Bonds have been donated to the contest by the B.A. Paint Company, Spencer's and the B.C. Cement Company.

The larger stores have agreed not to enter the contest, which will provide opportunity for the smaller stores to compete among themselves.

CALL-UP TOO LATE

VERNON, B.C., April 28 (CP)—Postal authorities may have to wait a long time if they expect D. H. McIndoe to call for the registered letter waiting in the post office here for him. The letter contains an army call-up notice, and Major D. H. McIndoe joined the Canadian Tank Corps when war broke out and now is fighting in Italy.

Having done our duty, let us quietly and trustingly leave the issue to God.

Protest Looting By Sunken Nets

VANCOUVER, April 28 (CP)—Notice of a protest of Nanaimo Local, United Fishermen's Federal Union, regarding looting of cod banks by sunken nets, at a Nanaimo meeting, Thursday, was received by Major J. A. Motherwell, chief supervisor of fisheries, with full approval.

"I am delighted to see the fishermen taking action in this matter," he said. "The time is approaching when the department may have to abolish greyfish nets because fishermen to the present have not played the game."

It is illegal to fish for cod with sunken nets, but it is legal to use this gear for dogfish (greyfish). Cod, caught incidental to the dogfish, are sold on the cod market. So, when dogfish fishermen set their sunken nets on known cod banks they catch cod.

G.M.C. Production Up By 87 Per Cent

War materials valued at $3,456,884,000 were delivered in 1943 by General Motors of Canada, Ltd., Oshawa, Ont., the recent annual report of the company states. This was an 87 per cent increase over 1942. Production in 1943, largely of military vehicles, was 90 per cent more than in 1940.

Other facts given in the report were: 2,300 different items, from ball-bearing units to 30-ton tanks, are included in the corporation's output, and 40 per cent of its dollar volume is composed of aviation products; 38,000 men of the Army and Navy were graduated from General Motors courses in the operation, maintenance and repair of the company's products.

General Motors field representatives continued to operate abroad as well as at Canadian training centres; technical manuals, reference libraries and technical centres were maintained.

Funeral of Mariner

Funeral services for Captain Donald S. M. Cantwell, 46, naval man who recently was doing important work for the United States Navy Department, will be held at 2.45 o'clock today from Hayward's Funeral Parlor. Pallbearers will be former shipmates, who will later scatter his ashes from one of the ships on which he served.

Captain Cantell, taken ill four months ago while aboard ship, was flown to hospital. He died at St. Joseph's Hospital on Thursday.

Born on Jersey, Channel Islands, the son of a sea captain, he was put to the test by his father as deckhand on one of his ships. In the last war he served as a midshipman in the Royal Navy. Later he was in the Hudson's Bay Company service in the Arctic, and in the merchant service in many parts of the world.

Coming to British Columbia he was with the Canadian Pacific Railway Coast service before becoming an officer, and later captain of the cableship Restorer. For a time he conducted navigation classes at Victoria Night School. His wife, a daughter and a brother live at Hamilton, Ont.

BOYS FIND VALUABLES

VANCOUVER, April 28 (CP)—Two Richmond boys, George Cammidge and James Hanson, have been recommended by the Canadian Pacific Railway for a reward for finding a treasure trove in the Fraser River. The boys found a suitcase containing valuable papers, silverware and diamonds, which had been lost by a C.P.R. passenger last January and for which insurance had been paid when search failed to reveal whereabouts of the valuables. The boys were playing on a sand bar when they stumbled on the rich find.

Landing Craft Needed

WASHINGTON, April 28 (AP)—Declaring the navy's need for invasion landing ships is "constantly growing," Representative Carl Vinson (Dem., Ga.), introduced a new bill today authorizing construction of an additional $1,800,000,000 worth of such vessels.

Congress has just passed a $32,000,000,000 naval appropriation bill, but Vinson, who is chairman of the Naval Affairs Committee, said the necessity for even more landing craft had become apparent since consideration of that measure.

Halibut Now Scarce

VANCOUVER, April 28 (CP)—Halibut which normally would be coming into Vancouver at a rate of about 60,000 pounds daily at this season was a rarity on the local market today as the tie-up of 600 Pacific Coast halibut boats in protest against price ceilings continued.

Vancouver fishermen remained tied up in support of the American fishermen who have asked the United States Office of Price Administration to rescind a 2½-cent cut in the ceiling price of halibut landed at Prince Rupert, and also a 3-cent increase in the price at Seattle.

Would Lift Ban on Winter Evictions

VANCOUVER, April 28 (CP)—The Associated Property Owners of Vancouver today asked that the Prices Board ban on Winter evictions be abolished in the temperate climate area of the Pacific Coast. The owners also asked that notice required before a tenant may be ordered to vacate be reduced from six to three months given at any time of year. Both requests have been forwarded to Finance Minister J. L. Ilsley, at Ottawa.

THE THINGS OF TOMORROW

THE NEW SHAPE OF FREEDOM

THE NEW PATTERN OF SECURITY

THE NEW PROJECTS FOR A

BETTER WORLD

THESE WILL FOLLOW WHEN

VICTORY COMES

I RESOLVE

TO PUT VICTORY FIRST

TO RESOLVE is easy, but without planned retrenchment few of us can wring from overburdened incomes the increased savings this crucial year demands. To cut corners, trim spending, and eliminate every item of waste and extravagance—these are imperative. To some these ways to victory may be of little significance, unless beyond victory they foresee the future security that thrift will mean to each of us in the post-war world.

Shape for yourself a new pattern of security after the war by spending less now. Until victory is won none of us can feel secure.

Organizer of Canada's Wrens Honored

MISS JOAN CARPENTER, O.B.E.

A SLIM, capable Englishwoman who toured Canada organizing the Women's Royal Canadian Naval Reserve, has been made a Commander of the Order of the British Empire. The citation for the award, which she received at Buckingham Palace, referred to "outstanding zeal and devotion to duty displayed in organizing this Canadian service." Miss Carpenter has had the assignment of making Canadian girls navy conscious, and to further in that effort visited Victoria in June, 1942, when she interviewed applicants for the W R.C.N S , which was organized across the Dominion at that time. Miss Carpenter subsequently returned to Britain and is now superintendent of British Wrens in the Western Approaches Command.

Dr. N. A. MacKenzie Advises Support of Victory Campaign

"If our Victory Loan is not a success, it will encourage our enemies, discourage our friends, and damage our credit, and may lessen the value of the bonds and securities we now hold, as well as helping to prolong the war" warned Dr N. A McKenzie, K C , in an address at Metropolitan Church Friday afternoon held under auspices of U.B C. Women's Alumnae Association.

President-elect of University of British Columbia, Dr. McKenzie is head of the University of New Brunswick, and chairman of the Wartime Information Board Dr McKenzie stressed the importance of meeting postwar conditions. Said he "A backlog of savings in the form of Victory Bonds and Certificates will be of great help to all of us in that period and may be a veritable "life saver" to many of us It should mean that in that postwar period—if we maintain reasonable employment, a high national income, and high production—we will be able to buy of better quality and at a better price, the things, the goods and services which we need and would like to buy now, but which we have postponed buying, either because we can't buy them, as in the case of cars or because we want to help with the war effort by buying bonds instead "

WHAT CANADA HAS ACHIEVED IN WAR

Dr. McKenzie related that Canada has enlisted, trained and equipped more than 760 000 men and women, "our navy is third among the United Nations, and about the prewar strength of the Royal Navy, our air force is fourth in the world—and here we have more than 200 000 in the R C A F and in addition supply at least a quarter of the flying strength of the R A F , and our army numbers more than 465,000 and is one of the best equipped and most powerful fighting forces in the world for its size "

While outlining the diversified uses of money amassed through the medium of Victory Bonds the speaker pointed out that the overall picture of Canadian economy and the Canadian people is one of great prosperity. "Our national income has gone up from a low of less than four billions in the middle '30s to over nine billion dollars, and despite taxes and the purchase of Victory Bonds, there is more money on deposit in the banks today than ever before in history."

Dangers of inflation were told, and the importance of protection gained through the buying of bonds for the defence of Canada was clearly explained.

Miss Patricia Hamilton South, president of the U B C Alumnae, was chairman and also accompanying the speaker were F E Winslow, associate vice-chairman of the National War Finance Committee, and Denis Hagar, divisional organizer for Vancouver Island National War Finance Committee

Mrs W H. Wilson delighted the audience with two solos, her accompaniments being played by her daughter, Miss Nan Wilson

"Look for the silver lining" was the theme of the annual ball of the Victoria Firemen's Mutual Benefit Society held at the Empress Hotel last evening, when over 750 persons had no difficulty in finding every hour full of silver moments.

Under the distinguished patronage of His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. W. C. Woodward, Premier John Hart and Mrs. Hart, Mayor and Mrs McGavin and the Board of Fire Wardens, dancing was enjoyed until 3 o'clock this morning.

Carter; assistant master of ceremonies, J Chaplain; decorations, G. White and J. Tuckey and gate receipts J. Doherty.

"Blossom Time" Delights Many

As entrancing as its title, "Blossom Time," the story of Franz Schubert, was presented at the Royal Victoria Theatre by the Messrs Shubert last night It will be repeated tonight

Telling in the music of the loved composer the story of his Bohemian life in old Vienna and his lost love, taking from the richness of old Vienna the brightly-colored costumes of the day and setting these off against gay scenery and placing all this in the hands of a cast which appeared to enjoy bringing the story and the music to the stage "Blossom Time" was thoroughly enjoyed by the audience

Barbara Scully Roy Cropper and Helene Arthur had the principle singing roles and made the most of them, while Roy Barnes well-known radio singer, was excellent in the role of Franz Schubert

Doug Leavitt as Christian Kranz the court jeweler was an instant success as the outraged father who succumbed jointly to the wiles of Schubert's friends and the wine with which they were somewhat too generous He had excellent comedy support from Ruth Lockwood Greta Borjeson and Grace Worth

But it was the Schubert music which starred from curtain to curtain, and the orchestra had no small part in making "Blossom Time" a completely enjoyable evening

New York Stocks

NEW YORK, April 28 (AP).—Selective recoveries, for the third successive session, dominated today's stock market.

Specialties exhibited quiet strength from the start, with liquors in front, and closing gains of fractions to a point or so were well distributed.

The Montgomery Ward-W.L.B. dispute held the spotlight in Wall Street, and, while this company's stock slipped ⅛ of a point after a 1-point rally on Thursday, market analysts felt that the outcome might well redound to the benefit of corporate activities.

The Associated Press 60-stock average was up .1 of a point at 51.1 and, with Wednesday and Thursday's comeback had made up all of the .5 loss suffered on Monday. Transfers totaled 561,230 shares compared with 520,080 yesterday.

Thirty industrials 138.21, up .14.
Twenty rails 38.88, up .31.

Chicago Grain

CHICAGO, April 28 (AP).—Most grain futures drifted lower today, although rallying at times under short covering. Oats showed more strength than other futures and sold above the previous close most of the session.

Weather conditions favorable both to the preparation of Spring crops in critical areas and to the increased movement of corn to market caused some selling. Corn bookings reached 70,500 bushels, reported largely by industrial users, compared with bookings of 43,000 bushels yesterday.

Wheat closed 1-8 lower than yesterday, July $1.70 5-8, oats were 1-8 lower to 1-8 higher, July 78 7-8, rye was 1-4 to 1 cent lower, May $1.30, and barley was .5-8 to 3-4 down, July $1.24 1-2.

Clam Ban Continues

Provincial health department ban on clams and mussels taken on the west coast of Vancouver Island, between Cape Scott and Trial Island, continues in effect. It was applied last year when a number of cases of poisoning were traced to contaminated shell fish.

Periodical tests are still being carried out under direction of Dr. G. F. Amyot, provincial health officer, and some improvement has been shown. Clams and mussels may be taken from the east coast of the Island and from Mainland coastal waters.

To speak of large incorporating unions between churches as a first step toward a state of power is a demonstrable delusion.

Last opportunity today till 6 Flower Show, Crystal Garden, 25c.

Prairies Pay Their Debts

Prosperity in the Middle West will do much to maintain a high level of business and industrial activity on the Coast in the years ahead, declared D. E. Kilgore, of Toronto, president and general manager of the North American Life Assurance Company, now visiting Victoria with E. H. Hanley, superintendent of agencies.

Mr. Kilgore and Mr. Hanley are concluding a trip to Western agencies by visiting Victoria and Seattle branches.

Expressing himself as tremendously impressed with activities on the Coast, Mr. Kilgore remarked that he was especially pleased with the improvement in general business conditions in the Prairie Provinces. Not only were their debts being substantially repaid, but there was a growing confidence that the Middle West would once more play its full part in Canada's development, he stated.

"This will do much to maintain prosperity on the coast when industrial and business activity directly growing out of the war effort begins to flag," he added.

Mr. Kilgore stated new business of his company's Victoria branch was 100 per cent higher in 1943 than in 1942. Harold Webster, local manager, had become a member of Canadian Naval Service, and in his absence the work had been efficiently carried on under direction of Miss Mildred Russell, branch secretary.

He announced the award of the general manager's trophy, emblematic of outstanding achievement in 1943, to the Victoria branch, mentioning particularly the contributions made during the year by representatives Alfred Dendoff, J. H. Taylor and R. A. S. Munro.

Urge Inter-Racial Unity in Canada

OTTAWA, April 28 (CP).—A population in Canada of from 30,000,000 to 50,000,000 after the war was envisaged Thursday in the Commons by Lt.-Col. Arthur Ross (P.C., Souris) during discussion of an item in the war appropriations for the Committee of Co-Operation on Canadian Citizenship. Immigration must increase.

He said persons of foreign birth in Manitoba showed an example to some native-born Canadians in support of the war effort.

More work should be done in increasing co-operation, said Col. Ross, supporting the committee's activities.

Olof Hanson (L., Skeena) said he came to Canada 44 years ago and found the Dominion trying to grow strong with her two nationalities—Anglo-Saxons and French-Canadians.

"Now we have about 5,000,000 Anglo-Saxons, 3,000,000 French-Canadians and 2,000,000 foreigners," said Mr. Hanson. "If we are going to have unity—and we haven't got it today—we have to get these three groups together. In the United States the Swedes, the Scots and others are all Americans."

Canada needed immigrants, but "as long as we keep squabbling among ourselves as Anglo-Saxon, French-Canadians and foreigners we will never get anywhere."

What Today Means

TAURUS

If April 29 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 9.45 to 11.45 a.m., from 1.45 to 3.45 p.m., and from 7.45 to 9.45 p.m. The danger periods are from 7.45 to 9.45 a.m., from 5.45 to 7.45 p.m., and from 9.45 to 11.45 p.m.

Today "discretion will be the better part of valor," if through the exercising of it you keep from offending people, thus retaining rather than estranging friends. It might be well not to turn a deaf ear to any appeal for help made to you today, for you should recall that "one good turn deserves another," and probably in the past you have had assistance more than one time when you were in dire need of it. It is generally a mistake to be over-confident about anything, especially today when a number of unsuspected changes may have a decided effect on some existing conditions and plans. Married and engaged couples, as well as those who are in love, will do well to remember that nearly everyone resents having their judgment questioned, and on this occasion they are apt to be unusually sensitive about it.

If a woman and April 29 is your birthday, you are apt to have very little patience with anyone who is not willing to work as hard and conscientiously as you do, or who continually fails to carry out orders efficiently. You are, in all likelihood a firm believer in disciplinary measures that are conducive to having things done in a systematic manner. There are apt to be far more people who will admire than those who will resent your efficiency. Through your activity in scientific research work, writing, teaching, business management, selling, trained nursing, lecturing, acting, singing, painting or through some kind of emergency war work, you should be able to make an enviable record and a most substantial income. Through mutual devotion you and the man you marry ought to get your full share of connubial bliss.

The child born on April 29 is inherently ambitious and will, in all probability, aspire to take a leading part in whatever activity it engages. A magnetic personality is apt to be one of this youngster's most pleasing characteristics and the one that will be most helpful in the furthering of its future career.

If a man and April 29 is your natal day a hot temper and a quick tongue may be continually getting you into hot water unless you learn to control both. Your business shrewdness and foresight should help you to attain the degree of success that is one of your chief ambitions. As an architect, engineer, public official, doctor, lawyer, publisher, journalist, author, politician, business executive, clergyman, salesman or member of one of your country's expeditionary forces, you are apt to garner your share of laurels and become financially independent.

Prayer is and remains the native and deepest impulse of the soul of man.

Patricia Bay Concert

Victoria artists were well received by a large audience at Patricia Bay, when they staged a concert last night. Artists who took part were Joy Merriman, with a fund of new dialogue; Elaine Bassanta, soprano; June Day, pupil of Virginia Ryan, who danced; Marie Vowles, local violinist; Gwen Woolcock, pianist; Doreen Bull, acrobatic dancer; Verna and Larry Moore, intricate hand-balancing and acrobatics; Verna Moore, songs; Lois Moore, personality act and songs, and Bonnie Ward, popular songs.

Miss Ward was master of ceremonies, and J. Farthing, Y.M.C.A., helped complete arrangements. Following the concert, the troupe was entertained at supper in the airmen's mess.

Justice is as strictly due between neighbor nations as between neighbor citizens.

NO. 118—EIGHTY-SIXTH YEAR — VICTORIA, BRITISH COLUMBIA, SATURDAY, APRIL 29, 1944

Glancing Over Sport—

By JOE DELAHUNTY

THE DAY'S ROUND-UP

The St. Louis Browns tied a 26-year-old American League record and also a National League mark, which was made by the Brooklyn Dodgers as late as 1940, by winning nine straight ball games for a starter this season. The scribes are booming the browns to the heavens, but let them thumb back through the record books and they will find out that the Cincinnati Red Stockings of 1865 won 67 straight games without the slightest sign of a defeat. . . . This scribbler goes out on the limb and picks Stymie to win the lion's share of that $25,000 purse which goes to the victor of the Chesapeake Stakes today in the East, and don't say I didn't tell you so. Pensive will most likely take the place position, but go for the show horse yourselves, for Joe hasn't the slightest idea who will wind up third when the field hits the finishing line. . . . Do you know that 90 per cent of the Quebec Aces hockey club, recent winners of the Canadian senior "amateur" hockey title and the Allan Cup, are from Western Canada? Quebec City has been grooming that club for the honors for the last few seasons and finally it wound up with the battered old "mug," which has been tossed from one end of the country to the other in the last 35 years . . . Congratulations to Mrs. Art Dowell on her victory in the women's club final at the Uplands course yesterday over Mrs. Kenny Lawson. It was one of the best matches staged at the layout in years and one which attracted a good-sized gallery from the first tee to the final green. . . . See where Earl Sande, the greatest American jockey who ever mounted a horse, picks my choice, Stir Up, to win the Kentucky a week from today. When Sande goes out and puts his fingers on Eddie Arcaro's mount, I don't see how we can miss next Saturday. It will be Stir Up all the way from the barrier to the finishing line.

ODDS AND ENDS

Was talking to a V.M.D. football player yesterday and he was telling me that the shipbuilders will win today's Province Cup match at Macdonald Park by a 4-1 score. Well, we will let that prediction ride for his sake. The chap answers to the name of "Barney," and he plays every position on the team except goal tender . . . Dropped into the Elks Club the other night on an invitation and had a swell time with the lads. Met Bill Collins, Percy Payne, Gordon Law, Wally Brynjolfson, Bert White, Tom Gaunt, Andy Paton, Bob Begg, Jim McMillan, Reg Hayward, George Kerr, Archie McBride, Charlie Jasper, Jim Henderson, C. V. "Charlie" Milton, Vic Scarborough, and many more, not counting all the ladies. Everybody enjoyed themselves; they danced and they drank and really made an evening of it from start to finish. From this corner, I say "Thank you," for the way J.D. was treated at the function. . . . During the evening your scribbler had quite a long chat with Charlie Jasper and he was telling me that, glancing over his medals and so forth the other day, he ran across one when he was playing goal for the Victoria West football team away back in 1904. When Charlie boomed into the Elks Club that night it was the first time he had been out of the house for 15 months and everybody was glad to see him on deck. As a kid I remember Jasper playing goal for some team or other, Esquimalt being the club, if I am not mistaken. Best of luck, Charlie, this sports room hopes that you will be throwing those crutches away in the very near future and be jumping around with the boys, here, there and everywhere . . . George Kerr informs me that the Colwood Golf Club is going along fine and that the temporary clubhouse is now being completed and everything will be running as usual for the "duration." Two weeks from tomorrow, George, I will be with you and the wife at the club to look the situation over. Thanks for the invitation and don't worry about me being on deck.

REMEMBER WHEN MORVICH WON DERBY

The story of Morvich, winner of the 1922 Kentucky Derby, is the story of a sprinter who went out in front and stayed there for the full mile and a quarter route, shaking off one challenger after another, to win by a length and a half, under the skillful handling of Albert Johnson.

Morvich won 11 straight as a two-year-old. He was made the opening Winter book favorite at 5 to 1. But the sharpshooters of the turf insisted all through late Winter, and right up to Derby Day, that Morvich simply couldn't step at a winning pace for a mile and a quarter. They said his breeding was against him—that he must fold up after seven furlongs, or, at most, the one-mile pole.

Yet the average horse player backed him into $1.20 to $1 favoritism. They paid no heed to the sharpshooters, breeding lines, or anything else. They just noted that Morvich never had been defeated and decided to go along with an unbeaten champion.

My Play outbroke the field, with Morvich second. Morvich was in front before the quarter mile had been passed, with My Play second and Startle third. My Play and Startle tired, and John Finn started to chase Morvich at the three-quarter mark, with Deadlock third. Deadlock grew leg weary and faded out; Bet Mosie came fast through the stretch and beat John Finn a head for second money—but Morvich, owned by Ben Block, held his length and a half lead at the finish, and the form chart states that "Morvich outclassed his field and was kept in hard restraint for the first mile."

Morvich was bred in California and ran his first race as a two-year-old in 1921 at New York. He went to the post at 50 to 1—and won by ten lengths. He was a 2-to-5 shot in his next start, and a prohibitive favorite all through the rest of his two-year-old career when he never failed his backers.

The victory in the Derby was the twelfth straight for this son of Runnymede-Hymir—and the last of his career. For no fully explained reason, he was a complete failure thereafter, and was retired to the stud before the end of 1922. He has been a successful sire, and has begot quite a few horses which established certain fame because of their durability.

Derby Eligibles Running Today

Pukka Gin Declared Out of $25,000 Race—Classy Field Going Postward

BALTIMORE, April 28 (AP) —Ten Kentucky Derby eligibles were set today for tomorrow's $25,000-added Chesapeake Stakes, final rich test for the bluegrass classic, but Pukka Gin was not among them—and he probably will not run in the Derby.

Pukka Gin, the Colonel C. V. Whitney colt who was the Winter-book favorite for the Derby, was to have been given a chance to improve his poor showing in last Saturday's Wood Memorial, but he began bleeding from the mouth after a workout this morning and was declared out of the Chesapeake. Trainer Andy Schuttinger immediately said it was doubtful that Pukka Gin would be shipped to Louisville.

The principal Derby candidates named overnight for the Havre de Grace track stake, transplanted to Pimlico for the joint race meeting, were Mrs. Ethel D. Jacobs' Stymie, Mrs. Ella K. Bryson's Director J. E. and Calumet Farm's Pensive.

The early odds gave the lone filly entry, Calumet's Twilight Tear, a fair chance to upset the colts in the Chesapeake, which will be worth $25,700 to the winner if all ten go to the post.

She was coupled in the wagering with Pensive, and the entry was a pre-race favorite. Warren Wright's Pensive, a son of Hyperion, is to get his first major test of the year tomorrow. This year he has won three of six starts and $10,725 including a victory over older horses in the Rowe Memorial Handicap.

Wins Golf Title

Coming through with wins on the last holes, Mrs. Art Dowell, former city and British Columbia golf ruler, dethroned Mrs. Kenny Lawson in the Uplands Club final yesterday afternoon after one of the keenest played matches in recent years. The newly crowned monarch won out on the last green and a good-sized gallery gave her a fine ovation. It was close all the way, the battle being squared at the turn and remained the same way until Mrs. Dowell stepped in and took the lead at the 17th to become dormie.

Both club swingers shot the first round under good weather conditions in 45. Mrs. Lawson took the lead at the very first green by getting a five, to her opponent's six. They halved the next seven holes and then the new champion picked off a four at the ninth to square the match. Mrs. Lawson took a five at the halfway green. On the back nine, they halved the first seven holes and then Mrs. Dowell captured the 17th with a five to Mrs. Lawson's six and all she needed was a half to capture the crown on the 18th green, but she won the hole with another five.

Mrs. Bert Osborough won the first flight honors by downing Mrs. Doug Fletcher, 4 and 3.

John Caven, former secretary of the club, presented the prizes in the clubhouse after the finals, and also gave Mrs. C. Pearse, long a member at the course, who is leaving for the Mainland, a present from the ladies.

Jim Ferguson, vice-president, of the club, refereed the match and cards for the championship follow:

P.N.W. Golf Meet Definitely Off

VANCOUVER, April 28 (CP).—Ken Black, secretary of the Pacific Northwest Golf Association tournament, scheduled for Capilano Golf Club here this year, had been canceled again because of gasoline restrictions and other wartime conditions.

Mr Black received notice of the tournament's cancellation in a letter from Forest Watson, of Seattle, past president of the association.

Delegates to a directors' meeting at Seattle a month ago decided to hold the tournament this year, but individual clubs, including the Capilano Club, declined to back up the association decision because of war conditions, Mr. Black said. Instead of the tournament, one-day competitions will probably be held at each club in the association, he added.

Montgomery In Victory

CHICAGO, April 28 (AP)—Bob Montgomery, recognized by New York as the lightweight champion, beat Joey Peralta, Tamaqua, Pa. Mexican, for the third time tonight in a non-title bout before a crowd of 7,725, which filled the old Coliseum for Doc Kearn's promotional debut in Chicago.

The Philadelphia Bobcat outweighing his rival 140 to 136, was rather tame tonight and the decision was booed by the customers, who clicked $23,590 into the coffers to watch the former manager of Jack Dempsey launch his Chicago fight promotion adventure.

Montgomery, who had won two previous decisions over the Mexican, caught Peralta with a terrific right in the third round which opened a gash over his left eye. He kept drilling for the wound throughout the remainder of the ten-round bout.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

CHICAGO, April 28 (AP).—St. Louis Browns tied a modern major league record today when they defeated Chicago White Sox 3-1, for their ninth successive victory since the start of the American League season.

By stopping the White Sox with a four-hit performance, Jack Kramer won his third triumph of the season and his second against Chicago. Kramer won a pitchers' duel from Bill Dietrich, who gave up seven hits in the eight innings he worked.

Kramer's performance was a masterpiece of good pitching. In all, the Sox got only one man past second base and that in the second inning when Hal Trosky doubled and scored on an infield out for the Sox' only run of the game.

Advocates Lower Property Taxes

Andrew Whyte, Edmonton, Western Canada regional vice-president of the Canadian Association of Real Estate Boards, addressed members of the Victoria Real Estate Board on a wide variety of subjects, including rehabilitation and property taxation, during a meeting in Spencer's dining-room yesterday afternoon

"Property taxation has received all too little attention, and one of the few reports we have to go on, the Sirois Report, is only a list of findings taken at various meetings. In a nutshell, its findings come down to this—property taxation is too high. Something is wrong when people have to be ejected from their homes because they cannot keep up with the taxes," Mr Whyte declared.

He asserted that $15,000,000 worth of property had been taken over for taxes in Edmonton alone, in the last few years. He added that if real estate was to continue as a good investment, the association would have to see that taxes were reduced

Another matter that should merit considerable thought, he said, was the rates of commission for agents who were working on old scales when everything else was going sky-high.

"Immigration," he continued, "is another problem we should give our first attention to. When the North is opened up, no country in the world will compare to the Peace River district. God gave this to us and we should look after it to see that we have the right kind of immigration to maintain a united Canada."

Bringing up the question of the Veterans' Act, Mr Whyte explained that anyone selling property to a returned man could not charge a commission "This applies to both the vendor and the purchaser," he said, "and as I see it, this is injurious to the returned man, as agents will not be interested in this type of sale and returned men will therefore not have the benefit of expert advice."

Major H C Holmes thanked the speaker for his address.

Flower Show Is Attractive

Winning easily over closest competitors, Mrs. Angus McKay took 21 first prizes, 26 seconds and one third prize with a total of 116 points at the judging yesterday of exhibits at the Spring Flower Show, which is attracting a continual stream of visitors to the Crystal Garden.

Sponsored each year by the Victoria Horticultural Society, a thriving club of flower lovers and gardeners, the show is a fairyland of lovely Spring blooms. With 95 classes open to competitors, there were 25 exhibitors, or a definite increase of 50 per cent over last year. Mrs. McKay wins the Royal Horticultural Society's medal for top points. In second place is Mrs. R. E. Winter with 14 firsts and four seconds, a total of 50 points, while third prize goes to Mrs. R. H. Ludbrook, who secured 36 points, winning five firsts, ten seconds and one third prize.

Mrs. A. M. Robertson and Mrs. E. W. Darcus followed with 34 points each, both taking ten firsts and two seconds. Miss Orie Parris, 16 years old, was awarded the Junior Challenge Cup for a splendid display of hardy flowers.

In the non-competitive displays there is a beautiful collection of orchids from the greenhouse of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Porter, Tattersall Drive, also an exceptional display of flowering trees and shrubs from Layritz Nurseries. From the gardens of Mrs. William Downes there is a beautiful collection of tulips, and Mrs. E. J. Phippard, Cedar Hill Road, has a display of garden plants.

Centred on a table of rainbow-hued flowers, there is a large old gold frame setting off a flower picture arranged with minute beauty by Mrs. A. M. Robertson.

ALPINE PLANTS SHOWN IN BED OF MOSS

Set in damp moss, there are lovely alpine plants and variegated leaves with a background of rough branches imitating ancient trees.

An innovation this year is the display of gardening books arranged by the Marionette Library. Women's Institute exhibit baskets of narcissi, tulips and flowering shrubs, filling a whole table.

In the Layritz display rhododendrons are prominent; especially good are the feathery lavender Racemosa and the large pale Davidsonium. The latter is an East Indian plant, quite at home in the Himalayas. One of the newest of this collection is the Camellia, Reine des Fleurs, a tall variegated species of great beauty. The best rock plant in existence, Daphne Cneorum, pink and sweet scented, is prominent.

Judges for the show were: William Darling, J. J. Woods and Mrs. D. D. McTavish. The show continues today, closing tonight with an auction of all flowers at 8 o'clock.

Last opportunity today till 9 Flower Show, Crystal Garden, 25c.

GOOD NEWS
FROM THE PRODUCTION FRONT

A REPORT TO THE PUBLIC

on General Motors 1943 War Activities

In Canada and the United States

★ Physical volume of war materials produced was more than double that of 1942.
★ Total value of 1943 war production more than 3 billion, 500 million dollars.
★ Average total employment 448,848, an all-time high
★ Total payrolls more than 1 billion, 300 million dollars—up 54%.
★ Materials and services purchased from others approximately 1 billion, 900 million dollars—up 88%.
★ Net income after taxes from manufacturing operations—3 3/10 cents per dollar of sales.

PRODUCTION

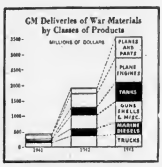

GENERAL MOTORS 1943 deliveries of war material rose to a total value of more than 3½ billion dollars, or about 87% more than in 1942. The increase in physical volume was even greater, since unit prices were reduced during the year. Deliveries of service parts and other authorized civilian material amounted to $250,000,000, a decrease of about 30% from 1942.

At the time of Pearl Harbor, GM deliveries of war products were at a rate of two million dollars' worth a day. By the end of 1943 the daily rate was above twelve million dollars.

The 2,300 separate items placed in production ranged from small and delicate parts to airplane engines, complete airplanes, tanks, and powerful Diesel engines for submarines and landing craft.

The armed services have in many ways repeatedly recognized the quality of General Motors war products, its prompt deliveries and its efficiency of operation.

EMPLOYMENT

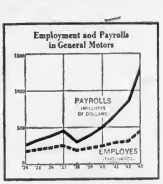

AVERAGE EMPLOYMENT in General Motors in 1943 was 448,848, an all-time high. The figure stood at 303,749 in December. In 1942, the yearly average was 314,144, and the December figure was 391,975. Thus the increase in yearly average was 43%. At the same time, payrolls rose 54%, and reached a total of about 1½ billion dollars.

More than 200,000 new GM employees were trained for war work in 1943. Enrollment in courses for supervisors and executives totaled 21,500.

Safety and health records have been excellent. The percentage of working time lost because of accidents was less in 1943 than ever before and was considerably lower than the average for similar manufacturing industries.

The proportion of women workers in the United States increased from 35% at the end of 1941 to 31% in December 1943, reaching a total of 145,000.

PRICES and PROFITS

TOTAL NET INCOME after taxes in 1943 from war output and other sources was $149,780,088, compared to $163,631,588 in 1942 and $201,652,508 in 1941. Net income after taxes from manufacturing in 1943 was only 3 3/10 cents per dollar of total net sales.

93% of all war material delivered to the end of 1943 was manufactured under fixed-priced contracts. General Motors early established the policy of reducing prices to the government as lower costs were achieved through greater production experience. The government benefited many millions of dollars through these price reductions in 1943.

Taxes in 1943 totaled $528,068,000, of which federal taxes were $254,783,000; social security and unemployment insurance taxes, $39,263,000, and state and local taxes, $14,022,000.

Common stock dividends were $2 per share in 1943. They were also $2 in 1942, $3.75 in 1941 and 1940, $3.50 in 1939.

SUMMARY OF FACTS

★ Value of GM 1943 war product deliveries, over 3½ billion dollars—87% more than in 1942.

★ Net income after taxes for year, 150 million dollars, compared to 164 million dollars in 1942, 202 million dollars in 1941.

★ 1943 net income after taxes from manufacturing operations, 3-3/10 cents per dollar of sales.

★ Common stock dividends were $2 per share in 1943. They were also $2 in '42, $3.75 in '41 and '40, $3.50 in '39.

★ Employment at an all-time high, averaging 303,749 for December.

★ Total wage and salary payments were 1,322 million dollars—also an all-time high.

★ General Motors is working with almost 10,000 sub-contractors and suppliers in its war production program. Purchases from these sources in 1943 totaled approximately $1,900,000,000.

★ More than 38,000 soldiers and sailors have been trained by GM in war product repair and maintenance.

★ In 1943, GM factory employees submitted 123,000 written suggestions for improving production or working conditions. 25,400 ideas were accepted. Cash value of war bond and stamp awards for same, $955,000.

★ During 1943 an average of over 95% of all employees were buying war bonds through GM Deductions and cash payments amounted to more than 10% of payrolls.

NEARLY 86,000 GM MEN AND WOMEN HAVE ENTERED THE ARMED FORCES

By the end of 1943 more than 10,000 veterans had been given employment by GM. Nearly half of them were employees who had been on military leave of absence; the remainder had never before worked for GM.

The year 1943 was one of great effort and sound achievement on the part of General Motors men and women. The job is not yet done. All are determined to contribute to the utmost in support of the armed services until final victory is won. When this is accomplished, there will be the task of preparing for the requirements of a nation at peace. But until that time "Victory is Our Business!"
